Kennedy Says Peril Revealed by Crisis

Cuba Showed Nikita Dangers Of World, President Thinks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy believes the Cuban crisis has revealed the dangers of the world, he said today. "We ought to be rather pleased with this Christmas for Khrushchev," he said, "how dangerous a threat of Communist domination we live in" but that it will be some time before the United States will "come to any real understanding" with him.

If the Communists would devote their energies to demonstrating how their system works instead of trying to change the balance of power, "we could have a long period of peace," Kennedy said. But it is, he said, the Red Chinese and Soviet determination to make a Communist world in a nuclear age that "makes the sixties so dangerous."

However, in a chatty interview that set a television "first" Monday night, the President said "we don't think the Cuban crisis has revealed the dangers of the world, but it has shown us the dangers of the world."

Kennedy Acts as Cupid To Help Couple Marry

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy has played Cupid for a 19-year-old U.S. Marine and a 17-year-old Bronx girl.

The two are Lance Cpl. Bernard Richardson of Brooklyn, N.Y., who had been stationed at Guantanamo in Cuba, and Gloria Kassof.

Because of the Cuban crisis, Richardson had been unable to get leave to come home and marry Gloria this Saturday.

Miss Kassof said she wrote President Kennedy Dec. 3 asking his help.

She said Monday night she got a reply last week from Under Secretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay Jr., stating that Richardson could be transferred from Guantanamo to Camp Lejeune, N.C., and would be allowed to go home to be married.

Richardson telephoned her from Camp Lejeune Sunday night that he would be home Wednesday.

The wedding is to be held Saturday.

2 Hunters Injured in Ontario Plane Crash

KENORA, Ont. (AP) — Two hunters were injured in the crash early Monday of their single-engine plane in scrub spruce 40 miles southeast of Kenora.

The pilot, Ed Callen of Park Rapids, Minn., was in a Winnipeg hospital and reported in serious condition. His companion, Merle Paul Fay of Superior, Wis., was hospitalized in Kenora with a face cut, both ankles sprained and chest abrasions. His condition was satisfactory.

Fay said Callen had flown Dr. and Mrs. Ben Bennett of Superior and his son, Joseph Forer and John J. Abt, to a hunting party in the area. They had just taken off to hunt for moose and had just spotted one when the accident happened. He said he did not know what caused the plane to crash.

Donovan Flies to Havana To Ransom 1,113 Prisoners

Loerke Fined $500; Gets 60 Days in Jail

Former Head of County Hospital Must Repay $1,291

The former superintendent of the Outagamie County Hospital, Norbert Loerke, 48, was fined $500 and ordered to begin a 60-day sentence in the Outagamie County Jail Jan. 2, when he appeared Monday in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 for sentencing on two counts of misconduct in office.

Loerke, who pleaded guilty to the charges Nov. 8 after an extensive investigation by Sheriff L.L. Jack Zuelzke and Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, also was placed on probation to the state department of public welfare for two years. During the probation period, Judge Gustave Keller said, Loerke is banned from employment at the Outagamie County Hospital.

Orders Restitution

Loerke was ordered to make restitution to the county of $1,291—the estimated amount of money the materials and labor Loerke used for private work on his summer home at Little Lake Butte des Morts since 1958. Restitution must be made within six months, Judge Keller ordered.

In a written statement which he read to the crowded courtroom, Judge Keller told Loerke, "The offenses committed by you were not modest indiscretions but serious violations. I disagree—em."

Heavy Toll Seen During Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents during the long Christmas holiday, the National Safety Council estimates, may kill between 650 and 750 persons and cause disabling injuries to between 27,000 and 33,000 others.

The council's estimates cover the 102-hour holiday period from 6 p.m. local time, Friday, Dec. 21 to midnight Dec. 25.

The council said Monday that during a comparable nonholiday period at this time of year, 470 persons are killed and 20,000 suffer disabling injuries.

The record traffic death toll for any holiday period was the four-day Christmas period of 1956 when 706 persons lost their lives in highway accidents. In last year's three-day Christmas holiday, traffic deaths totaled 524.

The nation's traffic death toll in the first 10 months this year, averaged 110 a day for a total of 33,430, a record high for any single 10-month period.

Castro Said to Have Cut Captives' Ransom Price

Tax Exemptions Indicated for Firms Donating Listed Items

WASHINGTON — Premier Fidel Castro has reduced his ransom price to $52,000 000 in "things like medicine and medical equipment for the release of the 1,113 prisoners of war captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion."

American firms are now being solicited for drugs, medical equipment and baby food in a huge campaign, with an assist from federal agencies.

The American Red Cross is acting as the collection agency. It will also donate the cost of overseas packaging and shipping.

Some of the pharmaceutical firms have already been told that any donations will win quick approval as federal tax deductions.

A Justice Department spokesman acknowledged that the Internal Revenue Service and Justice are cooperating to the extent that, attorneys from both federal agencies are "working overtime and weekends to expedite rulings" on the tax exemptions.

Both Must Approve

The rulings, which might ordinarily take weeks, are being handled down in a matter of days or less.

Both agencies must approve the deductions. "Nobody is being guaranteed a tax reduction in return for a contribution," said a Justice Department spokesman. "Each case is being examined and we're merely expediting the rulings."

In North Chicago, Ill., an Abbott Laboratories spokesman said his firm is making a "substantial" contribution to Fidel Castro's men-for-medicine demand.

It was unclear, even to some of the donors, who is spearheading the drive.

Request Items Listed

However, this was denied by a spokesman for PMA, who said that apparently members of the Cuban Families Committee were making the solicitations. At least one large American pharmaceutical firm received from the committee the list of items demanded by Castro.

Atty. James B. Donovan of New York, who has conducted lengthy negotiations for the release of the Cuban prisoners, is credited with "beating down" Castro's original medicine-ransom demand by $100,000,000. The agreed upon price was based upon retail value in Havana.

Castro made known Oct. 12, during a speech at the University of Havana, that he would accept $62,000,000 in "things like medicine and medical equipment" for release of the prisoners.

Some Already Ransomed

However, it was only in the last few days that any substantial progress has been made in negotiations.

Some of the prisoners captured April 17, 1961, during the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion, previously were released on payment of individual ransoms of up to $100,000 each.

Three Thieves Figure Out Prescription for Robbery, Take $900

NEW YORK (AP) — Three thieves figured out this prescription for mass robbery in a doctor's office.

They tied up the physician, his nurse and receptionist, then forced the receptionist to call out the names of patients seated in the waiting room. All 11 patients were bound and robbed, one by one, as they entered the inner office.

The Negro robbers, two with guns and one with a knife, got about $600 in cash and $300 in jewelry from Dr. Thomas H. Amos, his nurse, the receptionist and the patients in the physician's Harlem office Monday.

Reynolds to Address Wisconsin C. of C.

MADISON (AP) — Governor-elect John W. Reynolds will address the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce here Jan. 8, the day after he is sworn into office. He will speak at a dinner session following the chamber's pre-legislative conference.

3 of Cuban Committee Also Aboard

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—New York attorney James B. Donovan flew to Havana today in an effort to complete negotiations with Fidel Castro for release of 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners in exchange for food and medicine.

Donovan and three officials of the Cuban Families Committee, composed of relatives of the prisoners left aboard a special Pan American World Airways plane.

The plane took off at 9:56 a.m. from a guarded and secluded runway a mile distant from Miami International Airport. The public was barred.

Supplies Waiting

A flow of medical supplies to Miami has begun, presumably to be swapped for the prisoners it was learned in New York.

Trans World Airlines said one of its planes, under charter, Monday night flew 32,000 pounds of medicine to Miami from Idlewild Airport.

It said that between now and Friday, 28,000 pounds will be flown from St. Louis, Mo., and 19,000 pounds from Los Angeles, bound for Miami.

The airline said the shipments were ordered by the Air Transport Association, a private organization of aviation industry executives.

Relatives Hopeful

In Miami, relatives of the prisoners waited hopefully for Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to say when and if he will accept food and medicine for their freedom.

The S. S. African Pilot, 435-foot freighter designated by the International Red Cross as the vessel to deliver the ransom to Cuba, headed south from Baltimore and is due at Port Everglades, 30 miles north of Miami, Wednesday.

The Red Cross has assumed sponsorship of the exchange.

If Castro and the negotiators agree, the ship will be loaded with food and medicine stockpiled at Miami.

Plans call for Pan American World Airways jets to fly to Havana to pick up the prisoners. The ship will be in port or at sea headed for Cuba when the planes take off from Havana.

Warm Response

He reminded Kennedy that Britain and the United States have been through "much together in the past," and said they looked forward with high hopes to the future.

Kennedy responded warmly to Macmillan's welcome, recalling that this is their sixth meeting during his own two years in the presidency.

The President quipped that he was not sure the world was much better off after each of their meetings, but that he had benefited greatly from "the counsel and friendship you have shown to me."

Mitchell, TV, Stage, Screen Star, Dies at 70

Second Veteran Actor To Die of Cancer Within 2 Days

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Thomas Mitchell, an actor's actor, honored by his colleagues with the highest awards of stage, screen and television, is dead of cancer at 70.

He succumbed Monday, the deadly disease's second victim in two days among the famous names of Hollywood. The other

Thomas Mitchell was Charles Laughton, 63, who died Saturday.

They appeared once together in a movie—"The Hunchback of Notre Dame" in 1939.

The bushy-browed Mitchell, who had the face of an Irish leprechaun and the soul of a devilish poet, was most famous for his role of Scarlett O'Hara's father in "Gone With the Wind."

That same year Mitchell also played the boozy frontier doctor in "Stagecoach," a picture many critics believe the finest Western ever made.

In the Academy Awards that year—1939—Mitchell was mainly in competition with himself. His performance in "Stagecoach" Turn to Page 8, Col. 6

Reject Plan to Drop Assessors In Small Towns

Committee Proposal Would Give Job To County Official

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Legislative Council voted unanimously Monday in tabling a proposal to eliminate tax assessors in towns of less than 10,000 population and give their duties to a county assessor.

The proposal had been recommended by the group's Taxation Committee on a contention that employment of full-time qualified assessors at the county level would contribute toward uniform property tax assessments in the state.

Opposition was raised by Ben Hanneman, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Towns Association, who insisted that such legislation should be permissive rather than mandatory.

Also sidetracked was a measure designed to establish state responsibility for land it buys and removes from local tax rolls. Council members felt amendments might make the legislation acceptable. The Taxation Committee recommended payment by the state for negotiated services rendered by local communities. Included was tuition for pupils living on state-owned land and payments for water and sewer services provided in the acquired area.

Tax Roll

Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi, R-Minocqua, objected to the plan saying "it only takes care of areas that offer services. There many places where services are not rendered but where land is taken off the tax roll, and those places wouldn't get a nickel."

Among measures the council approved for introduction in the 1963 Legislature was one to provide state tuition payments for children whose parents reside on state-owned lands other than military camps, veterans hospitals, charitable or penal institutions. An estimated 150 children would be affected, and the tuition charge would be about $450 yearly.

U. S.-British Union to Take On New Form

Membership in Common Market Ends an Era

BY EDWIN A. LAHEY
Chicago Daily News Service

NASSAU, Bahamas — The United States and Great Britain in this generation have been as close as two nations can be short of federal union.

The impending meeting between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan may be the beginning of the end of that interesting period in Anglo-American relations.

Britain may soon be joining Europe, by adherence to the Treaty of Rome, or the Common Market. (There's many a slip between the cup and the Common Market, but indications are that the British will finally get in.)

Once the British become part of Europe literally and psychologically, through membership in the Common Market, the "English Speaking Union" type of close relationship between this country and Britain comes to a close.

That relationship began in the time of Britain's greatest crisis, when Sir Winston Churchill, beseeching Britons to fight the Nazis with broomsticks if necessary. It was cemented by the close association of Sir Winston and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Share Atom

The intimate warmth of the Anglo-American association in this past generation can best be illustrated by the fact that Congress, usually jealous of American superiority, saw fit to permit the sharing of atomic secrets with the British.

The friendship dating back to the Roosevelt-Churchill alliance was strained seriously only once, when the United States refused to encourage Britain in the Suez crisis, which was the last real attempt of the British to act like the great military power that their island used to be.

Young Americans today accept the close friendship of their country with Great Britain as a matter of fact.

But people of middle age can recall when Britain was not only an alien country, but a widely hated alien nation.

Reporters still covering politics (like myself) were reporting as young men how a Chicago Mayor named William Hale Thompson was threatening to punch King George "on the snout."

This kind of anti-British demagoguery was possible because of the large groups of Americans of Irish and German backgrounds, who had learned as children to distrust and dislike the British. For decades anything British suggested social snobbery. This feeling has not entirely disappeared.

opened to cause the deep wound around his eyes.

"God told me to tear my eyes out," he replied.

The victims were Maxim and Maria Trifari, the parents, both about 60; Maxim Jr., 28, and Olga, 36.

Trifari entered the Lakewood police station, about a mile and a half south of the farm, at 7 p.m. "Where could he find a priest?" The short, dark-haired man wanted to know. He needed a priest to bless a bundle of eggs he told police.

Police asked Trifari what happened.

Pair Arrested After Owner Tipped Police

LADYSMITH (AP)—Two men arrested in a car officers said contained nitroglycerine blasting caps, burglary tools and guns were arraigned in Rusk County Court Monday night on an assortment of charges.

Benjamin Thomas, 59, St. Paul, Minn., and Raymond A. Drew, 33, of Hudson, were ordered held under bond of $10,000 each. A preliminary hearing will be held Dec. 27 on charges of burglary, theft, possession of burglary tools and pointing a firearm at another person.

Authorities said they would be moved from the Rusk County Jail to the Barron County Jail today. The local jail is restricted to overnight confinement.

The pair was arrested at a road block near Rice Lake Monday. Police said Clayton Malaise, owner of a store at Bruce, was told by a neighbor that two men were prowling near the shop early Monday. Malaise arrived in time to see the two drive away and followed in his car for about 12 miles.

He said the other car stopped, and the two got out and approached with drawn guns and told him to give up the pursuit. Malaise went to a phone, calling police with a description of the car and the license number.

Analyst Says Fair Sponsor Losing Money

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The State Exposition Board, the sponsor of the State Fair, is losing $103,000 in the present fiscal year, a state budget analyst said Monday.

Richard Peterson, of the State Administration Department, based his figures on a projection of the board's fiscal activities since last July.

"All this leads me to believe the board does not have an adequate view of the finances," Peterson said. "In other years you (the board) have had a balance of $200,000 to $300,000 in the black."

"The figures are alarming to look at," said W.M. Masterson, director of the Exposition Board. "But we know we are making expenditures—heating, a new roof on the cattle barn. Much has been spent on maintenance but our income is not down."

Robert A. McCabe, board secretary, said the expenditures were "quite normal." He said they would be amortized over a number of years.

Peterson's figures did not include $64,000 the board expects

First Free Elections in Dominican Republic Set Despite Plea for Delay

Party Asks Postponement Because Priest Called It Communistic

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican Republic apparently is going to have its first dictator - free election in 38 years on Thursday despite a major party's demand for a one-month postponement.

The Dominican Revolutionary party, which demanded the postponement because a Roman Catholic priest called it communistic, may even participate in the election against its will.

Emilio de los Santos, president of the National Electoral Board, declared Monday night that so far as the board was concerned the elections will not be put off. He said there is no way for the Revolutionary party to withdraw from the ballot at this late date.

The government had not yet acted on the postponement petition, but President Rafael Bonnelly scheduled a nationwide address tonight calling on Dominicans to exercise their right to vote. This was accepted as a sign the petition would be rejected.

Boycott Polls

Juan Bosch, 53, leader of the Dominican Revolutionary party, had been rated in some informal polls as a winner over the conservative National Civic Union but he withdrew from the presidential race and called on the voters to boycott the polls unless voting was postponed for a month.

He said the delay was needed to clear the air of the accusation by a Spanish Jesuit priest, Luis de los Angeles, that Bosch and his party are communistic.

Bosch said the party was trapped—if it lost the election it would be said it lost because it was Communist, and if it won its reform legislation would be opposed on the grounds it was communistic.

Hard Blow

Competent observers said the charge dealt the party a hard blow in rural areas where it had been strongest, and where the church is strongest too.

Bosch appealed to the Roman Catholic hierarchy for a statement repudiating Father Garcia's charge. Instead, four bishops issued a statement saying that the church is observing "strictest neutrality."

Bosch and Father Garcia debated the communism issue for more than three hours on nationwide television and radio Monday night without changing any basic position.

Drunken Driving Trial Scheduled for Jan. 31

MEQUON, Wis. (AP)—The trial of John J. Schneider Jr., 44, the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for state treasurer in the November election, has been rescheduled for Jan. 31. He is charged with drunken driving.

County Judge Warren Grady said Monday that Schneider of Sheboygan would be tried at the Mequon City Hall in a session of the Ozaukee County Court.

Schneider also is facing a charge of misusing $9,000 belonging to the Sunrise Memorial Gardens Cemetery Association at Sheboygan.

Bible Reveals God's Plan, Meaning of Life

Rev. E. C. Dahl Says Bible Shows 'Plot' Of Christian History

In the Bible God was revealing his plan and purpose to humanity and making clear the divine meaning of human life, the Rev. Edward C. Dahl told his congregation at the First Congregational Church, Appleton, Sunday. His sermon was entitled "A Story with a Plot."

"The Christian community reads and rereads the Bible and tells and retells its story because it is convinced that unless one knows this story, he is ignorant of the most important, challenging and transforming facts about human life," he began. "The proverbial visitor from outer space might consider Christian worship to be one long history lesson, and there is a sense in which he would be right. But Christian history is a history with a difference."

"Anyone can read history or retell the story of the past," he explained. "Only the Bible gives us an adequate understanding of history's true meaning, laying bare the outlines of its basic, underlying 'plot.'"

God Reveals Plan
 "In the events that are recorded in the Bible, God was revealing His plan and purpose to humanity and making unmistakably clear the divine origin, meaning and destiny of human life," he said. "The 'plot' of the Bible, then, is a drama in four acts," the Rev. Mr. Dahl said. "Act I is the story of creation. At the very beginning of the Bible we learn that the earth was fashioned and man brought into being by an intelligent, loving Creator who intended that all that He had done be good. The human race is not here on this planet by accident. It is all part of a wise, good and loving purpose and plan. If life exists, as it may, on other worlds in other

VFW Commander Pleads Innocent On Lottery Count

The commander of the Electric City VFW Post 3319, Roland J. Geurts, 1412 Main Ave., Kaukauna, has pleaded innocent to charges of selling fermented malt beverages without a license and conducting a lottery at the clubhouse. He appeared Monday before Judge Raymond P. Dohr. Geurts was not present when state beverage and tax agents raided the clubhouse Dec. 8. He was charged because he is the commander and agent for the Veterans of Foreign Wars post. Judge Dohr set Jan. 16 for trial and continued Geurts' bond of $1,250. Geurts' attorney, Donald Herring, told the court he would decide within a week if he would ask for a preliminary hearing. Herring filed an affidavit of prejudice against Outagamie County Court Judge Gustave Keller, and Judge Dohr was selected to hear the case.

Bad Check Count Brings Jail Term

Arthur J. Olmstead, 39, 319 N. Appleton St., Monday pleaded guilty to charges of passing a worthless check for $10 and attempting to pass a worthless $20 check. He appeared in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for each charge. Olmstead passed a $10 check Nov. 6 and was caught by Red Owl Store Manager Arliss French as he attempted to cash the $20 check Saturday. French held the man in his office and contacted Appleton police.

Royal Arch-Masons Elect New Officers

Guy J. Barlow has been elected excellent high priest of the Appleton Chapter 47 of the Royal Arch-Masons. Other new officers are E. John Goodrich, king; James Gordon, scribe; George C. Jackson, treasurer; Alvin A. Krabbe, secretary, and Gilbert L. Trentlage, trustee for several years. Installation of officers will be at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 10.

galaxies, the same thing is true of it, wherever it may be." "Act II, however, is the story of rebellion," he continued. "Although man was created by God to live in harmony with his fellow man and in obedience to the commands of his Creator, man has proved from the very start to be a rebellious creature. "From the time of the very first man, he has preferred his own way, separated himself from his Creator, rejected the very principle of his existence and placed himself in the center of the world, trying to impose on everything else his own little, limited authority. He has poisoned the very springs of his life by his selfishness and self-centeredness."

Story of Judgment
 "If Act II is the story of rebellion, Act III is the story of judgment," he went on. "These two acts, we learn, take place on the stage of human history simultaneously. God the Creator is revealed in the Bible to be One who is not mocked. He is a God who judges both men and nations by His righteous will throughout the whole of human history. "There is no final escape from judgment, both in history and in personal experience. Life cannot 'come right' as long as man separates himself from his Creator and his Creator's plan for him." "Act IV of the Bible story contains the working out of the 'plot' of the story in redemption," the Rev. Mr. Dahl said. "What we could not do for ourselves, God has done for us, opening up a way out of the impasse at which we have arrived. This is the final resolution of the 'plot.' " "Through the coming to earth of Jesus we know that the God who judges is also a God who heals," he said. "In Him who was the obedient Son and servant of God the Creator once again entered human history and acted decisively to renew the shattered relationship with His children and to reestablish a point of contact between man's neediness and emptiness and the divine power and sufficiency."

Railroad Sets Expansion Plan

Milwaukee Road to Spend $19½ Million For Equipment

The Milwaukee Road improvement budget for 1963, totaling in excess of $19½ million, will be aimed primarily at making the maximum amount of freight car and motive power equipment available for service within the shortest possible period of time according to William J. Quinn, president of the railroad.

To accomplish this goal, the president said, Milwaukee will spend approximately $5 million for a stepped up program of major repairs to 3,000 of its 40 and 50-foot box cars to put them in like-new, or Class A, condition. The road will purchase 16 new turbo-charged diesel locomotives for road haul and heavy switching service, as well as 50 insulated box cars of 50 - foot length, equipped with damage prevention devices, and 50 covered hopper cars of 4,000 cubic foot capacity, equipped with pneumatic outlets. The total expenditure for new locomotives and cars will be in excess of 4½ million dollars.

In addition, 30 freight diesel locomotives will be re-powered in 1963 and a large number of gondola, refrigerator and other types of freight cars will be rebuilt, repaired, or equipped with loading devices. Starting in January, the box cars involved in the 3,000-car program will roll steadily off the and stenciled to show the Milwaukee Road name and familiar til- in Milwaukee. Each will be completely repaired, freshly painted, enlarged size.

Some People Allergic To Individual Drugs

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: A lot has been written about drugs that are harmful to many people, but I have never read anything about the drug dentists use in extractions. Here's what happened to me. The dentist shot some into my gum and my head started spinning. My heart was pounding so loud I just knew anyone could hear it in the next room, and I blacked out. Why do dentists use that kind of drug? —A.P.I.

I left out the name of the drug you mentioned. Using its name would worry millions of people for whom it would be completely harmless.

Let's get this on the record: I'm totally dedicated to the principle that any new drug should be adequately studied before it is put on the market. There's no argument about that.

As a matter of fact, the drug (thalidomide) which recently stirred up such a roaring controversy, is one of the few that has slipped by without its dangers being found. It slipped by in Europe. It didn't slip by in the United States. It never was approved for sale here. The Food and Drug Administration (specifically one courageous woman scientist) didn't feel that sufficient testing had been done. So the U.S. didn't see much of the drug except what was permitted for experimental use, or was "bootlegged" from abroad.

in isn't a fictional place where right always triumphs. If we use drugs, some are dangerous, and that is why we insist on prescriptions for potent ones. The safe rule is to have their use supervised by people trained to know how to look for the danger signs — meaning doctors, as well as pharmacists who do their good share of protecting us all. Even perfectly ordinary and harmless things can be dangerous to certain people. Death can be as close as our front curb, our bath tub, or a staircase. Or a spoiled sandwich or some food that sets off allergy and acute asthma. The best of drugs can be dangerous, too. Our purpose is to study everything, guard against every danger. But abolish the drug that made you black out? No. Unless you also want to abolish everything else that is dangerous, including food, bees, stairs, lead paint and even slippery sidewalks. Or automobiles?

Potential Danger
 However, remember that any drug that is powerful is potentially dangerous. I don't know a single one which can't be harmful to someone who happens to be sensitive to it. Such ordinarily predictable things such as Vitamin B, sulphur, penicillin, aspirin, cocaine, morphine and a host of others can't be given to some people without making them ill. There are cases of such useful drugs such as penicillin causing death, sensitivity, millions do not. Re- and every year we lose quite a number of babies because they eat a handful of aspirin tablets which parents "didn't know were dangerous."

Babies die from gnawing lead-laden paint from a window sill. Some adults die from a single bee sting. A field of ragweed can be fatal to a hay fever sufferer. Not often — but it can happen. Let's face it. The world we live in is unusually sensitive to the drug injected and the symptoms are typical. A few people have this sensitivity; millions do not. Re- mind any dentist or doctor in the future of this experience — there is a substitute drug available.

Dear Dr. Molner: After reading your column about the mother who let her child have cigars, I'd like your opinion on parents who let children sip alcoholic beverages from their glasses. — M. I'm against it. Note to R.K.G.: No, we've never found any sure remedy for psoriasis. Fairly often one shot-in-the-dark remedy works, but there is none that can be depended upon in all cases. The disease is not fatal and will not make you an invalid. It is just a nuisance.

phatically—with your witnesses and supporters who would pass off so easily your violations.

"The charges made against you were not the work of irresponsible, publicity-seeking individuals but were the out-growth of unlawful acts on your part.

"The written confession which you signed—signing after making a considerable number of changes in your own handwriting—indicates desire on the part of the investigators to be fair, to learn the truth rather than to take undue advantage of you.

"Through your wrongful acts—over a period of time—you have cast suspicion on all public officials and employees and you have done them a disservice."

Judge Keller told the spectators Loerke was not charged with abuse or neglect of patients or failure to give consideration and care to the patients.

Good Treatment
 "Good treatment in handling the patients appears to have been your concern. However," Judge Keller said, "that was your job, the reason why you were employed, why you were paid.

"The fact that you did not take a vacation or times off could not constitute a justification for your acts. You received a reasonable income—cash, housing, utilities and so forth. Your future," Keller said, "was of a rather secure type."

In passing sentence, Judge Keller said he considered Loerke's past record as a citizen, his general attitude toward the care given the patients, the disgrace already brought upon himself and his family and the loss of his position.

Schools to be Closed if Snow is 'Pretty Heavy'

It's going to take a pretty heavy snow to close the Appleton public schools this year. Appleton Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz said parents and children can assume schools will always be open unless they are notified to the contrary by radio.

School system maintenance men will start as early as 3 or 4 a.m. to clear parking lots and provide access to rural school buildings after a snowstorm, Kurtz said. This program was started last year.

If it becomes necessary to close any schools because of heavy snow, the information will be given to the radio station by 7 a.m. he said.

Library Hours Set at Kimberly

KIMBERLY — Special hours have been established at the public library during the holiday vacation season, according to Mrs. Joseph McCann, librarian.

The library will be open from 9 a.m. to noon Dec. 24, will be closed all day Christmas and have hours from 10 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 5 p.m. from Jan. 26 through 29. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to noon on Dec. 31 and the library will be closed Jan. 1.

Normal winter hours will take effect Jan. 2. Hours will then be 1:30 to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 1:30 to 5 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 5 p.m. on Saturdays. Grade school children will not be allowed to use the library after 6:30 p.m.

A book chute has been installed adjacent to the main entrance to the village hall for persons desiring to return library books during times when the library is not open.

Columnist Will Write For John Birch Society

NEW YORK (AP) — Westbrook Pegler, former columnist for the King Features Syndicate, will write a column for American Opinion—the monthly publication of the John Birch Society—according to an announcement from the right-wing organization issued in Belmont, Mass. The announcement said Pegler's first column would appear in the February issue, adding: "The rougher he is on the (Kennedy) administration, the better we will like it." Pegler departed company last Aug. 13 with Hearst's King Features, which had distributed his column to 140 newspapers in the nation.

Lowering of Trade Barriers No Easy Task

Europeans Believe They Don't Need
Lower U. S. Tariffs

NEW YORK (AP)—Protectionism is far from dead—on either side of the Atlantic or Pacific. And Christian A. Herter as the U.S. government's foreign trade czar may have plenty of trouble translating the President's new tariff bargaining powers into the free trade it envisions.

American manufacturers and unions who see their sales or jobs trimmed or threatened by foreign competition will be heard from, in and out of Congress. And the new law offers various ways of protecting them.

The European Common Market is acclaimed for its striking efforts to lower trade barriers. But its aim is to achieve one big tariff free club—for members only. It plans to maintain at least some tariff barriers against the rest of the world, including U.S. manufacturers and farmers.

Walls High

And in recent weeks the spirit of keeping these walls fairly high has been reported to be rising.

Britain has been yearning to join the club. But protectionism is far from dead in the United Kingdom either, and certainly is very much alive in the British Commonwealth. Political opposition in Britain to joining the Common Market is growing louder, and is becoming bitter in many of the Commonwealth nations.

Damage to British industry, labor, farmers, and to Commonwealth producers is stressed by the protectionists.

On the Continent there is stubborn resistance to letting Britain into the club on terms that French, German or Italian businessmen and farmers fear might favor competitive British products or commodities from the Commonwealth nations.

Trade Barriers

And hints have been going out that the Common Market, because of its fast growth rate of industrial production and consumer markets, thinks it is in a better bargaining situation than the United States on the question of trade barriers. Some cocky Europeans are saying that Americans need access to their markets more than they need lower tariffs here.

So Herter, a former secretary of state under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, will need plenty of bargaining savvy in the post to which he was named recently by President Kennedy.

Those who saw the passage of the Trade Expansion Act as opening a new trading era in jig time are now beginning to set back their schedules.

Tariff bargaining is always a long and slow process. Too many interests are involved, on both sides of the table, for the negotiators to act fast.

This time the bargaining may be the harder for several reasons. The desire of Europeans and Japanese to protect their growing industries; the costs of production that are rising faster in Europe now than they are here, and therefore make the price protection of tariffs seem more attractive; and the very nature of the new look in world trade—the trend toward trading blocs in various parts of the world, which increase consumer markets at home and build up the volume of goods that can be exported.

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — A Harvard educator says the country's greatest need is an awareness of the need for educational improvement — and for the people to show themselves willing to pay for it.

Hats Off to the Green Bay Packers

The Green Bay Packers are Western Division champions of the National Football League for the third successive year. It is getting to be a habit—and it's a good habit.

In such circumstances, one might expect the fans to become complacent. However, the victory this year was closer and more thrilling than either of the previous ones. The Packers went into their final game against the Los Angeles Rams with 12 victories and 1 defeat. With such an excellent record, one might have expected the Packers to have the division title salted away but Detroit was right behind with a record of 11 victories and 2 defeats. It was quite obvious to all that a loss by the Packers and a victory by Detroit would have thrown the leaders of the Western Division into a tie and a playoff to determine who was to represent the division in the title game against New York.

There was no certainty as to the outcome of the Detroit-Bear game but Green Bay fans were quite relaxed since they were confident the Packers would be able to handle the Rams. After all, the Rams had only 1 victory all year, 11 losses and 1 tie going into the final game. The lowly Rams, as they were referred to, could scarcely be expected to upset the mighty Packers. But everyone who follows professional football has heard the expression that any team in this league can defeat any other team on a given day. The given day might well have been last Sunday, for the Rams rose up in their home stadium to give the mighty Packers a real battle. There were moments when all Packer fans may have been just a little bit thankful that the Bears had been able to defeat Detroit, 3 to 0, earlier the same afternoon.

Common Market Problems

In threatening to "review" its commitments to the defense of the mainland of Europe, Great Britain was indicating the awkwardness of trying to separate military and economic matters. The European Economic Community is going to have to become a real political unit eventually if it is to remain strong.

England's problem in joining the Common Market involves its commitments both to the rest of the British Commonwealth of Nations and to the European Free Trade Association. Last week it appeared that England's entry into the Common Market was almost hopelessly barred. But leading British officials have warned that England will not be able to maintain its 50,000 troops in West Germany if it faces the high tariff wall of the Common Market.

There are several matters at issue here. One is the question of whether the British—and for that matter the American—troops are really essential to the physical defense of Europe. Charges have been made that their presence is really only to insure enough British and American casualties, in the event of a Russian mass land attack, to guarantee their entrance into the war. There is still apparently considerable feeling in some European quarters that England and the United States would consider the European mainland expendable in case of a nuclear war.

Such charges are a military matter but it has certainly been a basic United States policy that Europe must be defended. The

Algerians Are Not Free

When Algeria's Ben Bella visited the United States and Cuba last fall after taking over as Premier, he made a big point about belief in the right of self determinism particularly as regards the Cuban people. But Ben Bella's interpretation of self determinism seems to rely upon the power from above.

Bella waxed enthusiastic about the Russian aid to Castro but in Algeria he banned the Communist party. It wasn't a matter of ideology, his spokesmen hastened to assure the Reds. In fact "it is simply prohibited as will be any party other than the F.L.N."

Past allegiance to the F.L.N. and Al-

The play in Chicago and in Los Angeles Sunday was a clear illustration of why professional football has such a hold on the fans. Those who have wondered what "on a given day" means in the cliché about any team in the league defeating any other team, had a good opportunity to form their own definition of this phrase. It was the "given day" when Chicago could defeat Detroit and it came very close to being the "given day" for the Los Angeles Rams. The Packers' 20 to 17 victory over the Rams gives a good idea of how close these two teams were. The Rams have wonderful personnel, and on this particular Sunday all were in shape physically and mentally. The Packers had a real battle and their close victory is something to be proud of and nothing at all to be ashamed of.

As Coach Lombardi has pointed out in the past, this has been a long season. The Packers had to begin early in order to participate in the All Star game and in the following 14 games their title was on the line every Sunday afternoon. All teams which met them were fired up in hopes of defeating the champions. But the Packers have shown that they were indeed true champions by withstanding the best the teams of the Western Division could throw against them and come out victorious. The same factors which made it a difficult season have made it a thrilling season. The narrow margin of real ability among the various teams in the Western Division has contributed greatly to public interest in professional football and it makes the Western Division title more meaningful. The Packers have performed as real champions. Our hats are off to this wonderful team.

need for actual British troops can be determined only by the military authorities although the matter of national contribution to the NATO force is also important. This was something which France neglected during its years of Algerian conflict.

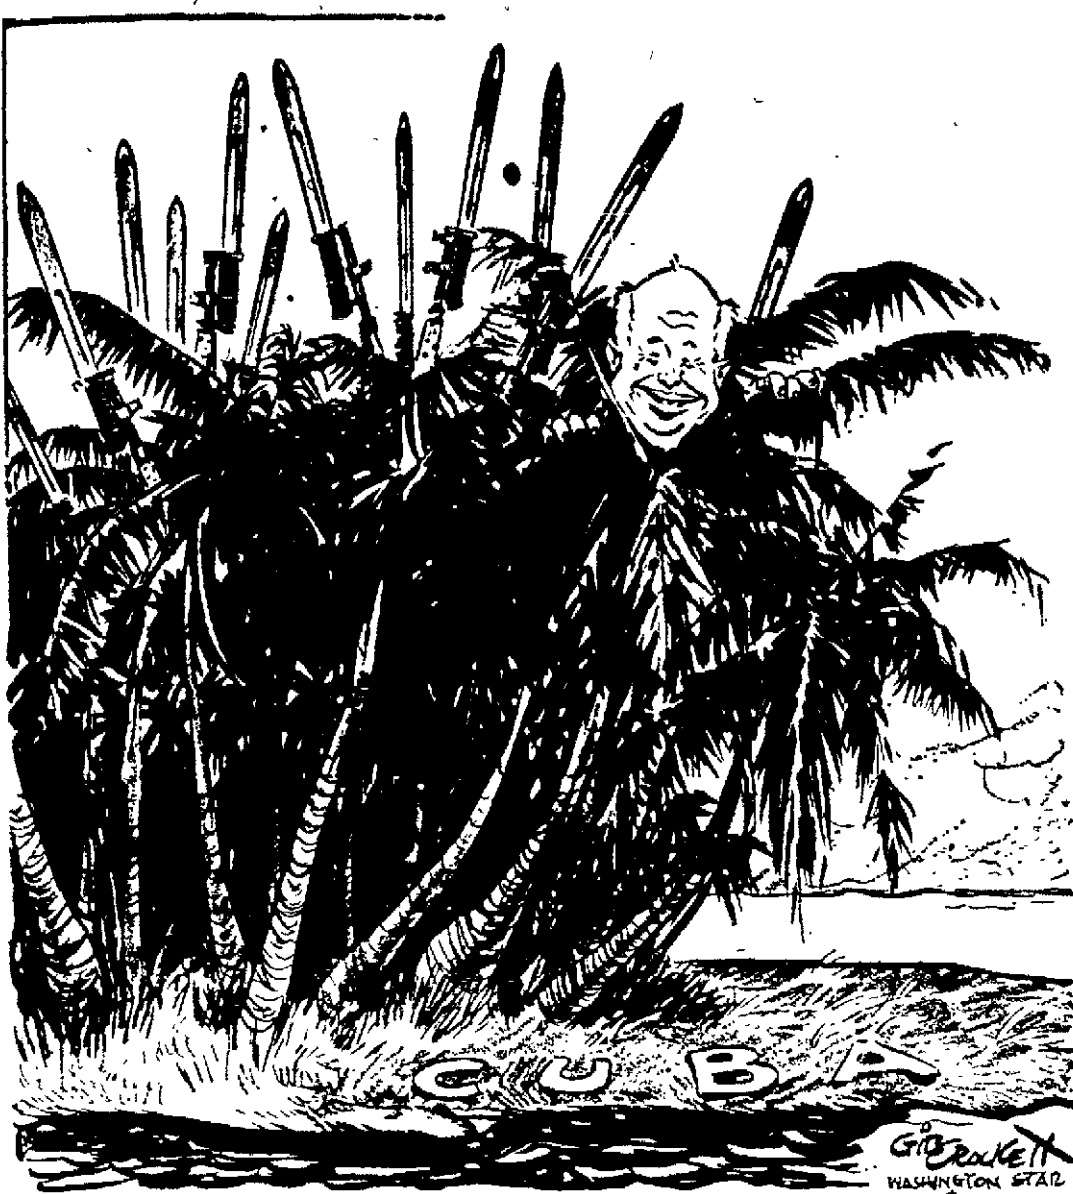

English authorities have been perturbed by indications that "associate" membership in the Common Market would be barred to such neutral nations as Austria and Switzerland. But the stand here is not consistent on the part of the British. If high tariff walls mean a lowering of British forces, then the economic benefits of the Common Market should mean a willingness to contribute militarily. And England is right in pointing out that it makes no sense for England to help defend the mainland of Europe from the Soviet Union if it means economic suicide at home.

The real problem in expanding the European Economic Community is that each nation has over the years built up its own specific protections and compromises. The more nations that seek to join, the more involved and seemingly impossible the solution becomes. And, even if all of Europe does solve the controversies and become economically and politically united, the United States will not be assured of economic health. Perhaps our troops in Europe will serve another purpose in future years—guarantees of fair treatment economically in exchange for their presence.

geria's fight for independence from France is no protection either. Armed troops now fill the streets of Algiers. Last week they sealed off a block and picked up Algiers' police commissioner and thirty of his friends because they were members of the Socialist Revolution party.

Leaders like Ben Bella are always quick to insist that such stringent prohibitions of all except one political party will be eased once the masses are educated so that they can vote intelligently. But somehow the millennium never comes and the one party continues to be kept in power by force.

Algerians may be independent but they are a long way from being free.

Triple C Sportsman's Union Plans Petition on Deer Hunt

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Today we hear much about political parties in Wisconsin. We have the Democratic and Republican also the John Birch Society and Matzo party. One that should rank with the top two we do not hear much about in the political news.

The third party is the W.C.C.C.D. What does this mean? The Wisconsin Conservation Commission and Conservation Department. It is very powerful and well-organized. They have a full staff which consists of propagandists, idealists and top grade salesmen to sell all the new pipedreams to the sportsman that they dream up. And the brainwashers that try to make the sportsman think the way they want them to, like a puppet when you pull a string.

Let us go back to Aug. 15, 1960, Raulf Hotel, Oshkosh 8 p. m., to a hearing held on the conservation department's "rough fish removal program" by the Wisconsin consin Legislative Council Conservation Committee which 170 sportsmen attended.

I would like to repeat a front page story in the Appleton Post-Crescent August 16, 1960, referring to the Aug. 15th hearing. "Wisconsin Legislator Suggests Game Laws Be Broken. Assemblyman Arthur Pruett Rips Wardens; Calls CD Political Party."

Oshkosh: A member of the Wisconsin Legislature here Monday night advocated the violation of "every conservation law of the state" and called the conservation department "Wisconsin's third political party."

Unfortunately the governor of the state was too tied up with the 1960 presidential election to pay much attention to 7,000 sportsmen who had signed a petition. Over 12,000 to 14,000 had signed but orders were out to pick up and destroy them, which they did wherever possible.

A recent article in the Sunday View section of the Post-Crescent told how commercial fishermen were operating on Lake Winnebago. It also stated that the pike were very small and are forced to feed on the red worm larvae because of the lack of minnows. The C. D. also said it would like bullhead, catfish and white bass classified as "rough fish" and sold to the mink rancher. The fish that they have been taking the past several years is the sheephead which is native to the "big lake."

He spawns 3 times a year and the spawn hatch on the surface of the big lake. This used to supply game fish with all the food they wanted. Now let us take a more recent article in the Twin City News-Record, Thursday, Dec. 13, 1962, page 8. "Plenty of Fish Available for Winter Anglers" states Richard F. Harris, area supervisor, fish management division. Many will be 11-13 inches long this year and gives no reason why they are so small. But the size will probably be 6-11.

Another news article Tuesday Dec. 11 Appleton Post-Crescent states "New Deer Policy Receives Cool Reception." This is the latest "cure all pill" the C.D. is trying to shove down the throat of the sportsman. I think it's about time we stop taking pills and have a little action.

The Triple C Sportsman's Union of Wisconsin will petition this latest plan down to the day season opens. We are planning a public meeting to briefly discuss the situation and vote on circulating a petition to the governor of the state. The date will be announced in the first part of January. Our goal on this petition will be over 100,000 sportsmen.

School Bus Problem Hard To Explain to Children

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I would like to contribute a few lines to the current discussion on bus lines — private versus public schools. I use the word "versus" deliberately for it seems that the issue has gravitated to that of a challenge: i.e. I'm going to win this one at any cost! In our efforts to come out on top, I think many of us refuse to understand the other person's position, and readily use any and all ammunition at hand whether it is pertinent or not. It's amazing that on the one hand we go to almost frantic lengths to accommodate our children with luxurious new buildings, laboratories and science halls. The best of everything to prepare them for their future role in life. Children need this elaborate preparation, we argue, for life is difficult in our time. On the other hand, we are completely ready to dismiss with a shrug of our shoulder these same legitimate benefits to children not of public school enrollment. Somewhere along the line, we reason, these non-public children have acquired a magical immunity against traffic hazards, health problems, etc. and therefore school bus rides would be a wasted precaution for them.

I have read recently in this column where, at least in one person's opinion, bus rides constitute a part of the child's schooling and education, and being public property, therefore should not be used by private-school children. I shudder to think of the day the same person learns that sidewalks are also public property. What do my parochial school children do then?

The fact is, non-public school parents are merely demanding a reasonable return on their tax-dollars. It's comforting to know that little Mary up the road can use a bus in inclement weather, but a little hard to explain why the boy from your own house has to brave the snow or hop in the family car with Mom if he needs transportation. Especially when you figure a chunk of that school bus is yours. They say the explanation is "Separation of Church and State." Try that one on your six-year old!

Menominee County Is Getting Attention; Problems Deserve It

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—The Problems and the prospects of the residents of new Menominee County in north central Wisconsin command more public and governmental attention than does any community of comparable size among the 4,000,000 residents of the state.

Wyngaard

There persists a feeling of collective guilt, by all appearances, about the decision of the United States government some years ago in terminating its responsibility for the Indians and their status as a reservation community, as well as an enormous interest and concern in the uniquely attractive and valuable tribal estate represented in more than 230,000 acres of the finest and most beautiful timberland on the continent.

The two attitudes were well illustrated a few days ago when the Citizens Natural Resources Association, a small but influential group of the most thoughtful and responsible conservationists in the state, scheduled for a major place on its annual meeting schedule a panel discussion by officials of the Menominee trust corporation of the progress of the Indians in their attempt to achieve independence and economic self-sufficiency.

LONG ROAD

The major conclusion was that, whatever their optimistic prospects there may be in a long-range view, the problems are many and difficult and the best talents of the tribe, its corporate officers, and the state government will be required to surmount them.

The idea that the country arbitrarily set the Indians adrift when it cancelled their reservation status, it would appear, is as erroneous as the notion that they are now self-reliant and secure in their own efforts and out of their own resources. The national government continues to pour money into the community large amounts of special money grants that are not available to other communities, and which have the effect of subsidizing the nominally independent county and town as surely as did the sustenance provided by the Bureau of Indian Affairs in the long decades of the past.

The state government also continues to provide a paternalistic supervision in countless ways that runs counter to the idea of independence. Altogether, the Menominees have the assurance that there are plenty of people and officials concerned about them and looking out for their welfare.

The important question is the outlook for future years, the prospect of realistic self-reliance after the "phase-out" of the subsidies, in the gawky language of government.

One comes away from expert talks on the subject with some reservations. The principal economic resource of the Indians is their marvelous forest. But it is an uncertain anchor for the community of more than 3,000 persons. Currently the lumber mill is making good profits. But the lumber industry is susceptible to serious fluctuations. There may be bad years, mixed with the good. The Indians obviously need a diversification of economic enterprise, and the most evident method of achieving it is through planned, careful exploiting of their magnificent scenic resources.

SUSPICION

The community corporation is now considering a plan for the controlled development of a summer economic resource in the way of leaseholds for vacationers. It has attractive income possibilities. But it will encounter resistance from some elements of the community who resent any departure from tribal ways and who have yet to become reconciled to the very idea of independent existence, and it will meet the suspicious stares of outsiders who worry about robbing the Indians.

The psychology that the United States oppressed the Indians of the continent as a whole is firmly established in the popular mind. Wrongs done to the Indians, real or supposed, are a part of the American creed. Any project that appears to give the white community any part of the legacy of the Menominees, on whatever terms, will run into the baleful glares of persons who inherited the guilty consciences of their own ancestors.

The next decade will provide a clue to the ultimate decision. As a guess, the Indians and the state will one day conclude that living in the beautiful wilderness, in poverty, won't be enough.

True Values Emerge In Judging Artists

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Watching the great Pablo Casals conduct a chamber orchestra in a Bach suite (in the closed television-circuit program for the National Cultural Center last month), I was forcibly reminded again that the world of performers and artists is many ways a model of what the outer world ought to be.

Despite the back-biting and envy and childishness of so many performers, there is an immense respect for talent and ability, skill and discipline, imagination and interpretation.

The world of the artist is supremely the world of the individual: compared to it, business and trade (which use the word "individualism" too often as a synonym for making more money without restraint) are impersonal and anti-individualistic. The modern corporation, indeed, is a prime example of high-level collectivism.

In the arts, a man or woman is judged solely and wholly by what he can do and how well he can do it. There is a true democracy of merit, which means that there is also a true aristocracy — made up of those who have proved themselves as individuals, regardless of their national origin, their private failings.

The veneration given to Casals by his fellow musicians is a moving example of what the entire human family was meant to be. This dummy, bald, hobbling, ailing old man, without money, without power, without even a country of his own, commands the utmost respect of artists throughout the world — because of his vast ability and his fierce dedication to the highest goals of his craft.

What an artist (if he is really an artist) wants to be is the best — not the biggest or the richest or the most famous. His end is a value, not a commodity; and true civilization can survive only when we place values above commodities. The least practical, and most destructive, thing a society can do is to enshrine the practical above the "idealistic."

What is immensely appealing, in a deep human sense, about the arts is that they remain one of the few areas in which true individualism can flourish; in which the creator and performer is a person directly communicating with other persons; in which his ancestors, language, connections, and superficial traits are totally subordinated to his professional skill.

A state which cannot produce and sustain such art is doomed, however tall its buildings or powerful its armaments; and both "democracy" and "individualism" can be measured by the ways in which those who are gifted in other areas shape their lives to give fuller expression to the higher parts of their nature, and not merely to the appetitive part we share with all animals.

Crisis Taught World Perils, Kennedy Says

Inspection Improbable
The verbal tour brought out evidence that Kennedy has all but written off the possibility of opening Cuba — or any Communist territory — to inspection. Yet his administration has laid down a fundamental policy that inspection is vital in Cuba and necessary to any disarmament pact with Russia.

It brought out word, too, that Kennedy still thinks he was right in forcing a rollback of steel prices and in ordering troops onto the University of Mississippi campus to protect Negro James H. Meredith.

It was a calm, poised President talking in an informal, relaxed manner with three men who cover the White House for television and radio.

90-Minute Interview
The interview was filmed Sunday afternoon in Kennedy's oval office at the White House. It lasted 90 minutes and then was condensed to 60 by the networks. It showed Kennedy sitting in his rocking chair in the spot where he holds many of his most important conferences.

There was a moment of drama, centering around Kennedy's conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko four days before the President announced that Russia had sent offensive weapons into Cuba and the United States was cracking down with a quarantine.

"sitting right here, perhaps on this very couch."

"Right here," Kennedy said. And he reached out and thumped the exact spot.

No Startling News
The President and the reporters dug into a broad field of subjects in leisurely fashion. They turned up some nuggets of new information but none of really startling proportions.

In the process, Kennedy: Contended the air-to-ground Skybolt missile, a focal point of controversy with Britain, wouldn't provide "$2.5 billion worth of national security." The $2.5 billion is the estimated cost of perfecting the weapon.

Disclosed that "we are going to wait for a further period of investigation" before putting into production the Nike Zeus system of anti-missile missiles. It would cost more billions.

Prods Western Allies
Again called on "rich Western Europe" to do its part in bearing the burdens of defense of the free world while relying on the United States arsenal for nuclear weapons.

Figured that as a result of the Nov. 6 election, the House is "slightly against us more than it was." He emphasized "slightly," and added: "We are not in quite as good shape as we were the last two years." The Democrats lost four seats and the Republicans gained two in a House whose total membership decreased from 437 to 435.

One thing Kennedy has found out at the White House:

The problems, the nation's responsibilities in an uneasy world, the limitations on "our ability to bring about a favorable result" are greater than he had imagined they would be.

Some Wrong Decisions
"It is," he said a bit wistfully, "much easier to make the speech than it is to finally make the judgments."

Sometimes, Kennedy conceded, his decisions have been wrong. He was wrong, he said, in the Cuban invasion fiasco of last year—but right in clamping a naval blockade around Fidel Castro's island in October.

He said he has no regrets about throwing the power of the presidency in the path of a steel price boost last spring. Good faith was involved, he said, since the United Steel Workers had agreed to a non-inflationary contract.

No Other Course
Similarly, in the rioting at the University of Mississippi that took two lives, Kennedy said that "we couldn't possibly do anything else" than send in U.S. marshals and troops. He acknowledged that this had caused bitterness against himself and the federal government and that "it does make it more difficult to pass an education bill in Congress."

As for Khrushchev, Kennedy said he didn't "think it is our duty to protect" the Soviet premier on grounds that his successor would be worse. But he said one thing that would be worse than Khrushchev would be for the Chinese Communists and their war policy to dominate the world Communist movement. "But," he added, "Mr. Khrushchev does not wish us well, unfortunately."

"What I think is our duty," the President said, "is to try to protect our vital interest, protect the security of the free world, and have Mr. Khrushchev understand our intentions clearly enough so that he can proceed about his business in a way which does not threaten our security, and does not bring a war."

Nike Zeus Fund Apparently Due To be Delayed

Production to Wait Until System Has Been Perfected

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given a clear signal that he will again deny the Army money to start production of the Nike Zeus antimissile missile despite its two intercepts of Atlas ICBM target warheads, the latest on Dec. 12.

"There is no sense going ahead until that system is perfected," Kennedy said Monday night during an hour-long interview on television and radio.

The Army hoped the two successful intercept tests over the Pacific this year would induce the President to budget money to start tooling up for production of the missile-killer project.

Cost Into Billions
"We hope to develop a system which will permit us to fire a missile at a missile coming towards us and destroy it, and thereby prevent an atomic attack on the United States," Kennedy said.

"But it will cost billions," he added, and should be perfected before going ahead with it on a production basis.

Kennedy also denied money for Nike Zeus production last year—as the Eisenhower administration had done before him.

The President's remarks indicated he probably will allow funds to push ahead with development of the missile killer, probably on the order of this year's $235 million.

Effectiveness Doubtful
Since 1957, nearly $1.5 billion has been spent on the missile, but the Army still has not been able to dispel doubts as to its effectiveness against a saturation attack by enemy missiles equipped with decoys.

Kennedy said protection against a saturation attack was "a terribly difficult task which we have not mastered yet."

Asked about Russian capabilities in the anti-missile field, Kennedy said he doesn't think the Soviets have mastered this problem of coping with a flood of missile warheads and decoys.

The President said he thinks with a nuclear warhead.

Castro Said to Cut His Ransom Demands

prisoners were released and returned to Miami on "credit" against future payments.

Castro at one time was willing to accept tractors and other machinery for the prisoners, but these negotiations broke down.

President Kennedy, at his press conference last week, expressed again the "deep sympathy" that the administration feels for Donovan's cause, and the plight of the prisoners.

Act Privately

But the administration has repeatedly taken the position that Donovan and the Cuban Families Committee are acting as private citizens, "without official government support, apparently because:

An active government role in the prisoner negotiations might lend credence to Castro's charge that the Bay of Pigs affair was an official U. S. invasion, which this country still denies.

If Castro were certain he was dealing with the wealth of the U. S. government, and not with private citizens, he would probably hike his demands.

Abbott Laboratories is now readying a donation of intravenous solutions, bulk medical chemicals and some antibiotics, "in accordance with the list submitted by the Cuban government," the Abbott spokesman said.

Donation Conditions

He said that Abbott's role in the men-for-medicine trade is "simply a case of complying with a request from the Cuban Families Committee through the Red Cross — and only after we have been assured by the appropriate government officials that this is in the national interest and that it will attain humanitarian goals."

"This action is not related in any way to our company's feelings about how the prisoner problem should be handled," he said, adding that Abbott has no policy in this regard.

Abbott's donation "will be so substantial, we couldn't fill it immediately," the spokesman said. Even with a tax break, the Abbott spokesman said, "we'll lose something."

"Some of the others may break even (but) the drug industry certainly isn't going to be making any money on this," he said.

The spokesman pointed out that Abbott, and Baxter Laboratories, Inc., Morton Grove, Ill., are "major suppliers of intravenous solutions"; Abbott is "a substantial, but not a major producer of antibiotics"; and "every drug company makes some basic medicinal chemicals in bulk."

NEW YORK (AP) — Live, 30-inch-high horses for Christmas are in store for the children of Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy and of Mrs. Kennedy's brother, George Skakel of Greenwich, Conn.

Three of the miniature steeds, each weighing about 100 pounds, arrived by plane at Idlewild Airport Monday from Argentina.

After undergoing routine blood tests at the U.S. Agricultural Quarantine Station, they will be shipped to their owners.

won him the Oscar for best supporting actor.

In 1952 he won television's Emmy for best dramatic performance and in 1953 he got the legitimate theater's Tony for his role in the Broadway musical "Hazel Flagg."

The public mostly knew Mitchell as an actor during his 50-year career in show business. He also was known as a quiet genius of theater in his early career. As a playwright he had several hit plays on Broadway and was much in demand as a play doctor.

He was also a successful director and producer on Broadway. He came to Hollywood in 1935 with a three-way contract as writer, director and actor.

Born in Elizabeth, N.J., Mitchell started as a newspaper reporter and drifted from the city room to the stage door. One of Mitchell's earliest Broadway appearances was with John Barrymore in the 1918 production of "Redemption."

Mitchell, a witty and brilliant conversationalist, had cancer for almost a year, but kept his spirits up. The night before Thanksgiving he appeared on Perry Como's television show. It was filmed last summer.

His survivors include his widow, Susan, and a daughter, Mrs. Anne Lang. James Mitchell, secretary of labor in President Eisenhower's Cabinet, was a nephew.

The wife and daughter were with Mitchell at the bedside of his Beverly Hills home when he died. Funeral services have not been completed. They will be private.

Michigan Driver Trapped in Truck On Interstate 94

RACINE (AP)—A driver was pinned in the cab of his truck for an hour when four semi-trailer trucks and two automobiles collided in a Racine County accident on icy, fog shrouded Interstate 94.

Neil McIntyre, Bad Axe, Mich., driver of one of the trucks, was trapped in his vehicle for one hour before rescue units could free him.

McIntyre was reported in fair condition today at a Racine hospital with head, face and leg injuries. He was the only person injured in the mishap.

McIntyre told police he was traveling north at about 25 miles an hour on the icy highway when another truck crossed the median area, entered the northbound lane and hit his truck. Two cars and two more trucks were piled up in the crash.

Autobiography Details Escape From Red China

A young man's disillusionment with Communist China is detailed in "Escape From Red China" by Robert Loh and Evans, one of the new books on display at the Appleton Public Library this week. Robert Loh's position is unique. Completing political science graduate studies at the University of Wisconsin in 1948, he went home to China to teach under his old mentor who had become head of Shanghai University. His return to the mainland despite the pleas of his father, who had fled to Hong Kong was prompted by his desire to believe the fine sounding pronouncements of the Communists as they began to take over the country.

He did teach briefly, but during one early purge he realized that his days as an employed intellectual were numbered. He went to work as nominal manager of the flour mills of the "national-capitalist" family of a former fellow-student.

Longed For Escape

However, the changes that overtook China and the Party members who were dehumanized by the very condition of their membership eventually disillusioned Loh until he longed for escape. Skillful in parroting the type of public statements the Communists wanted from someone in his position, he rose through the political maze and reached "reliability." He was even sent to Russia as an official "tourist." When Party watchfulness was relaxed he contrived to escape, feeling free to do so with his father dead, his relatives scattered and no hostages to leave behind.

It would not be easy to take this book casually even if it were only a novel. But it is a true story, told with shocking simplicity. Not only is it an outstanding example of the best type of "as told to" writing, it is also one of the most shattering autobiographies of recent years.

History of Elephants

"The Dynasty of Abu" by Ivan T. Sanderson described as a history and natural history of the elephants and their relatives past and present. It takes the reader all the way from the mammoths and mastodons to the existing members of the species today.

The nature and origin of the elephant, the relationship to man how they are caught, tamed and trained, the scourge of the ivory hunters, provide a background for material on performing elephants their character and intelligence, their tribal and everyday life in their wild state, and how they die. The author, a well known writer on natural history subjects is impressive about the "glorious, dignified, royal, wondrous creature," and his correlation of "Forgive Us Our Press Passes" by George Ratterman, Morton Hunt, "Treasury of Reliquaries," and "These Horned Island" by Elaine Sheppard. "John man" by Page Smith and James Kirkup, "Honest John" by Jon Walker Mahtzin, "Art of Growing" by Robert Nixon and "Texts" by Stanley Walker.

New books for people with special interests are "Armstrong's Book of Interior Decoration" by Jorje Borges, "Practice to

Books on People

A variety of new books on people from ancient to modern includes "Daily Life in the Time of Jesus" by Henri Daniel-Rops, "Underfoot in Show Business" by Helene Hanff, "Spy in the U.S." by Pawell Monat, "Romans with out Laurels" by Indro Montanelli, "Travelers and Travel Liars" by Percy Adams, "Dear Miss Afflerbach" by Jules Kowlow, "Saints and Scholars" by David Knowles, "Confessions of a Gypsy Quarter-hurst" by George Ratterman, "Forgive Us Our Press Passes" by Elaine Sheppard, "John man" by Page Smith and James Kirkup, "Honest John" by Jon Walker Mahtzin, "Art of Growing" by Robert Nixon and "Texts" by Stanley Walker.

New novels include "Ficciones" by Jorje Borges, "Practice to ly," "World of Roses" by Bertram Park, "Methods and Experience of Psychoanalysis" by Albert Gorres and "Home You're Always Wanted at a Price You Can Afford" by John Springer.

Other New Books

Also new are "Brendan Behan's of Jesus" by Behan, "Bernard Berenson Treasury," "Foundations of Western Thought" by James Clapp, "Mr. Wilson's War" by John Dos Passos, "People and Air, Fire and Water" by Alexan-der Eliot, "War in the Air" by "Earth and Sky" by Ilya Ehrenburg, "Indiana, Illinois" by Walter Hav-ings, "Her Infinite Variety" by Donald Kaufman, "Treasury of Reliquaries," "These Horned Island" by Elaine Sheppard, "John man" by Page Smith and James Kirkup, "Honest John" by Jon Walker Mahtzin, "Art of Growing" by Robert Nixon and "Texts" by Stanley Walker.

Direct Efforts in Treating Mentally Ill at Better Care

Only 20 Per Cent of Patients In Nation Receive Proper Aid

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP)—At age 64, John C. came home after 23 desolate years in a state mental hospital. He is one of thousands salvaged from back wards of mental hospitals.

Fourteen years ago, he was another inmate in a hospital with 1,850 patients, and only two doctors. To feed, clothe, house, and "treat" each of them, the hospital spent $1.06 a day. In some other hospitals the expenditure was as little as 43 cents a day.

Then an aroused state acted, providing more psychiatrists, nurses and psychiatric aides things to do, new stimulation, to win the sick back to health. With intensive treatment, John C. recovered.

Today that same hospital spends about $11 daily per patient and has only half as many patients. There, and in other of the nation's best mental hospitals, 70 to 85 per cent of patients to home within three months to a year after admission. And this same hospital now spends only half as much, for total treatment, for every patient who recovers, due to the shorter stay.

Small Percentage
The dolorous rub is that only 20 per cent of patients in all the nation's mental hospitals get the benefits of such effective treatment.

This includes drugs and intensive psychotherapy, the psychiatrist's way of listening and talking to and encouraging patients, such as John C., "until finally a light goes on in their minds and they understand what they were doing to themselves," as Dr. William Menninger expresses it.

Still today in state mental hospitals, only half of all patients are getting anything more than custodial care—bed and board. As a national average, mental hospitals spend only $5 daily per patient, as against $34.90 daily in a general hospital for the person ill with a physical complaint.

The best hospitals have one psychiatrist for every 35 to 50 patients. The national average, however, is one for each 140.

As one thermometer in the new climate, there were 9,000 fewer patients in mental hospital at the end of 1961 than a year before. And there were 100,000 fewer than had been predicted in 1955 on then current national rates of new illness and population growth.

Locks and Bars
Another idea is spreading—strike away the locks and bars in mental hospitals. Wise doctors are winning the argument that cooping sick people up like prisoners can only make them sicker and more frightened. Only a small percentage of mental patients is dangerous.

Coming along rapidly is a new concept of community psychiatry, says Philip E. Ryan, executive director of the National Association for Mental Health.

In this, the emphasis is to get the patient over the acute stage of illness by hospital treatment then send him home to finish his recovery, much like the patient with a heart attack or tuberculosis.

A young mother crippled by acute anxieties, for example, was admitted to a general hospital merely as another sick person, with no commitment papers.

Once over the crisis, she went home, continuing regular visits to the hospital's out-patient clinic. She was fortunate, too, in having a community service which supplied a trained nurse to help her at home.

Emotionally Ill
Only about one-fifth of the nation's general hospitals as yet have such psychiatric units. Last year, general hospitals cared for about 350,000 of the emotionally ill.

There are other helping hands. Hospitals and communities now operate nearly 1,500 psychiatric out-patient clinics, assisting half a million persons last year.

Only a few hospitals have 24-hour emergency clinics. Some provide day care, with the patient spending his nights at home. Some provide night hospital care for people who work by day, come in at evening for therapy and overnight stay.

There also are a few halfway houses, where discharged patients live for a time in company with other patients, gaining confidence, realizing they are not alone.

In some communities, emotionally sick children from broken homes are finding foster homes, for affection and normal experiences while being treated at mental health clinics.

Recovery from mental illness is one thing. But people can slip back if they cannot find jobs, are shunned by friends, or return to bad home situations and old problems.

New and well-established community facilities are tackling these problems.

In Topeka, Kan., and some other communities, employers willingly give jobs to people still under clinic treatment. In many cities, under mental health association auspices, patients have formed ex-patient clubs to help one another in full recovery.

One-Third Return
Formerly, about one-third of patients discharged from mental hospitals relapsed and had to go back within a year.

Pilot programs stressing total rehabilitation through multiple services indicate this recurrence of illness could be reduced to 10 per cent or less, says the National Institute of Mental Health.

A very recent concept is the public mental health center combining all types of services, from treatment to job-training and placement.

But only one-fourth of the nation's counties have any mental health clinics at all, and most have long waiting lists. Most hospitals are under-staffed. There are few clinics for children.

The battle for mental health costs money. Fifteen states by law now share with cities and communities the costs of expanding mental health facilities. The latest budget of the institute allocates $4,200,000 for matching grants with states to plan comprehensive mental health plans. Last year, federal, state and local agencies spent $91 millions for community mental health programs.

It marks a beginning toward reducing staggering costs in human suffering.

Radio Most Popular Unit In Home Today

The most popular electric appliance in the home today is, surprisingly enough, the radio. Less than one home of every 25 is without a radio, but 25 years ago, the most popular appliance was the electric iron. They were in nine out of 10 wired homes then.

The appliance which has made the largest gain in ownership in the last 25 years is the refrigerator. In 1929, it was used in less than one out of 10 wired homes and ranked as the sixth most popular appliance.

This year, it's the second most popular and is found in nine out of 10 wired homes.

Have Portable Vacuum Cleaner For Light Work

If you are an apartment dweller or live in a big house where you need an extra vacuum cleaner for quickie jobs, then a portable vacuum cleaner will be a good investment for you.

Portable vacuum cleaners are cheaper than the standard type, but they will swish up dust from rugs, bare floors or stairways. They are easy to handle and versatile, but are made for light work only. They're not designed to bring up that deep down dirt in a carpet.

The price range is about $50 to $70, including attachments.

Trend Toward Leasing Up During Year

Firms Believe Their Business Should Increase

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market break and the profit squeeze were among the things this year that boosted the trend toward leasing rather than owning production and office equipment. And the new depreciation rules and the more optimistic business feeling should further its growth in 1963.

That's the view of leaders in the leasing business, as you might expect, when they assess the changes in their rapidly growing form of financing. One change is the lengthening of the term of leases and another is lower rates in many instances.

Leasing is done either by the manufacturers themselves who rent out their products rather than sell them, or by outside firms specializing in this form of financing.

They estimate that American companies this year leased $900 million of production and office equipment, for a gain of 25 per cent over 1961. This doesn't include the renting instead of owning of plants, stores, hotels, commercial buildings and other real estate.

$1 Billion

The financing firms estimate the total for production and office equipment should top $1 billion in 1963. And the trend toward longer terms should continue. Extension of the life of loans marked other lending institutions this year and last. The big leasing companies estimate that this year up to 90 per cent of their business was done on a five-year or longer basis. When leasing of equipment started some 10 years ago terms generally were for only a year or two.

Some half dozen leasing corporations that operate on a national basis have grown to the point where they now can obtain funds in the money market at lower interest than when they started as small concerns. This has allowed them to bring lease rates down, an important sales point in the increasingly competitive world of finance.

"The profit squeeze in many industries is helping our business," says Robert Sheridan, president of Nationwide Leasing Company, Chicago, "because it cuts the cash flow and increases the need for other financing of new equipment wanted for cost cutting."

Long Term Capital
The stock market break also led to more leasing by companies that formerly turned to the public for new long term capital.

"The new depreciation rules for tax purposes, as they spark increased capital spending, will help our business because we are allowed by the law to pass on the credit to our lessees."

Big leasing corporations have turned to many specialized functions. One is financing mergers and acquisitions by buying the assets of the smaller company and easing them back to the merged company. Another is underwriting the growth of medium sized family-owned businesses. Leasing permits them to expand without diluting their equity or surrendering control of their firms.

Other functions leasing corporations stress in their sales talk is the converting of fixed assets into working capital by sale and lease-back, and allowing companies in highly competitive fields to acquire new equipment without draining their current funds.

Miniature Table-Top Oven Can Serve Wide Variety of Foods

And don't think Mrs. Family Cook doesn't appreciate this kind of electric Tom Thumb at her side. It doesn't prepare a state dinner by any means, but it serves a family-sized baked dinner with ease and convenience.

It can cook and serve hot biscuits for dinner, heat up a meat loaf as a filling Saturday special for hungry kids, serve a hot quickie dinner during that special TV program and many other impromptu or planned occasions.

The gleaming chrome baker pre-heats four times faster than normal ovens, and a "keep-warm" setting maintains prepared foods at proper temperature until ready to serve.

Kennedy Fails To Outline Whole Story

Tells Club Nation's Economic Health Is Basically Sound

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy didn't tell all of the story to the American people Friday night when he claimed in his speech before the Economic Club in New York City that "the economic health of this nation has been and is now fundamentally sound."

Even in the same speech later on Mr. Kennedy said exactly the opposite as follows:

"Surely the lesson of the last decade is that budget deficits are not caused by wild-eyed spenders but by slow economic growth and periodic recessions—and any new recession would break all deficit records."

The President endeavored, moreover, to give the impression that the rises in government expenditures which have unbalanced his budget have been due entirely to National Defense and Space projects or "to fight the recession"

we found in industry and agriculture."

Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri, Democrat, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, however, in a courageous speech on the day Congress adjourned in October, gave a different version. Unfortunately it didn't get the publicity a Presidential address does. Mr. Cannon said:

"This year we added another year to the long string of years of living beyond National revenues—in 26 of the last 32 years we haven't balanced the budget. Not even in times of unprecedented need the National prosperity have we been willing to pay as we go along."

He proved his point as follows:

Eight Years
"In the eight years, fiscal 1954 through 1961, the level of National defense expenditures remained virtually unchanged but the non-defense budget in that time increased $13,470,000,000—and that does not include the highway program, erroneously labeled as a 'trust' fund and therefore no longer counted in general 'budget' totals."

"Again when fiscal year 1962 closed on June 30 last, budget expenditures had risen $6,153,000,000 above 1961—$3,575,000,000 for national defense and $2,578,000,000 for non-defense."

And who has been in power in Congress for practically all of the last 32 years? Who has been in the majority in Congress in the last eight years? In both cases it is the Democratic party. And who holds the purse strings? Not the President, but the Congress. The President tried to shift the blame for the big deficits to the preceding administration, but Mr. Cannon's speech tells why this can't be so. Mr. Kennedy now promises—as he has done in many speeches before—to hold down the expenses of government. He said last Friday night:

"I can tell you that the total of all other expenditures combined (besides defense) will be held at approximately its current level."

But the trouble with that promise is that current expenses are not to be reduced and the tax revenues, of course, will not overcome the deficits. The promise of a "top to bottom" tax reduction makes the headlines, but business cannot expand and the tax receipts will not grow if there is a lack of confidence on the part of business in the economic outlook. For labor is getting ready to demand that business pay higher and higher wages, which, of course, would absorb most of the benefits of tax reduction.

The newspaper strikes in New York and Cleveland are significant examples of the system of extortion practiced by the labor union monopoly that is choking the free-enterprise economy on the cost side.

Produce Boom
The President expects the tax reduction to produce a boom in consumer spending. In his speech he revealed that "consumers are still spending between 92 and 94 per cent of their after-tax income. This ailment will not be cured by as they have every year since 1950." But he declares that the "after-tax income could and should be greater." This is the erroneous philosophy of new deal.

President Takes Sober Look at Nation's Future

Kennedy Throws Ice Water on Summit Talks, Rebukes Allies in TV Interview

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a sober and candidly realistic look at the world, paints no rosy picture about the days ahead.

In an hour-long interview with three reporters on television Monday night

1. He gave American allies in Europe an almost brutal rebuke for not doing their share against communism

2. He threw cold water on any summit meeting soon with Premier Khrushchev and on any idea it would do good if held soon.

3. He told those who think this country has borne too much of the world's burden too long: "We can't lay it down . . . in this century."

4. He expects about as much tough going with Congress in 1963 as he had in 1962. In this year's election Democrats picked up four Senate seats, the Republicans two House seats.

5. He indicated none of the optimism which swept over some people here after Russia's backdown on Cuba. They seemed to see or sense big changes coming.

First Line
The Allied forces in NATO are supposed to be their first line of defense against a Communist attack. The American allies have been notoriously deficient in supplying their share of troops.

But this has generally been softened by the American government, apparently for fear of offending the West Europeans. The United States also has been shouldering the big bulk of aid to backward countries.

Kennedy pointed out the United States has six divisions in NATO, "about a fourth of all the divisions on the Western front."

They are the best equipped. They can fight tomorrow, which is not true of most of the other units.

"So we are doing our part does not wish us well, unfortunately. And we are also providing the largest naval force in the world, as well as carrying out the nuclear force in the world, and we are also carrying out the major space program for the free world, as well as carrying out the whole burden in South Vietnam."

Greater Effort
He said the United States is more than doing its part and "we now hope Western Europe will make the same way."

down on Cuba. They seemed to see or sense big changes coming.

a greater effort on its own, both in developing conventional forces and in assistance to the underdeveloped world."

This is as blunt as any president has talked to the Allies in public. Kennedy sounded like a man fed up with listening to excuses.

Last week Khrushchev made a fairly mild speech on Russian-American relations. Kennedy referred to this speech to say "we are better off with Khrushchev than with the (Red) Chinese."

But if anyone thought this meant Kennedy saw a new era coming, he quickly provided the disillusionment with his single sentence: "But Mr. Khrushchev, I don't think he probably feels the same way."

And he added "I don't think you see there is much advantage in following the youths from the tavern and took statements from them. The youths were waived from juvenile court jurisdiction."

The tavern licensee, Vernon Gennitts was charged with selling beer to minors and was fined $200. I don't think he probably feels the same way."

2 Little Chute Youths Fined $20 For Buying Beer

Two youths who were questioned by state beverage and tax agents after they had bought beer in Shorty's VFW tavern, Freedom, Dec. 9, have pleaded guilty to lingering and loitering in a tavern.

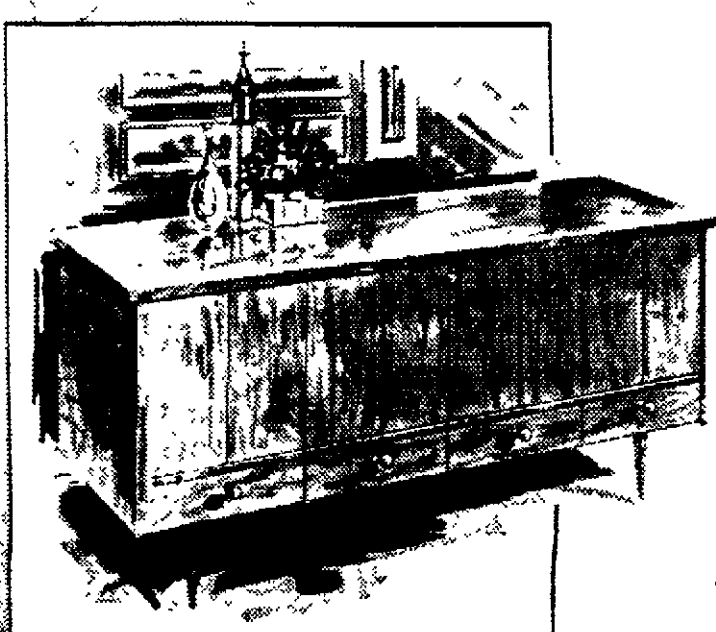

Dennis J. Vissers, 17, 1113 N. Buchanan St., and James H. Coenen, 16, 1009 N. Madison St., both of Little Chute, were fined $20 each when they appeared Monday in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2.

State agents observed the youths purchase three beers from a female bartender. They later followed the youths from the tavern and took statements from them. The youths were waived from juvenile court jurisdiction. The tavern licensee, Vernon Gennitts was charged with selling beer to minors and was fined $200. I don't think he probably feels the same way."

Elks Treat Morgan School Youngsters To Thrills of Skating Show at Green Bay

Debra Williams Showed her silver blades to Morgan School students who were guests of the Elks Club Sunday afternoon at the Green Bay Arena. Questioning the young skater about her glamorous profession are, foreground, Ann Schwaller, and back row, Thomas Deffke, Patrick Coyle and Patricia Buchman. At right, are Joseph Supple, Mrs. Sandra Baer, a teacher who accompanied the group, Jill Roeder, and Miss Fern Mead and Mrs. Phyllis Fisher, also teachers. (Post - Crescent Photos)

All the thrills and excitement of show business came alive Sunday afternoon as Morgan School students enjoyed the Holiday on Ice show at the Green Bay Arena. The afternoon with the glittering skating stars was sponsored by the Elks Club, with Joseph Moriarity, youth activities chairman, having charge of arrangements.

The children, their teachers and members of the Elks left the school at 1 p.m. Sunday afternoon. Enthusiasm and anticipation rode with the youngsters, who were not disappointed. They had a chance to meet the skaters, some of whom were no older than themselves, and get autographs from their favorite performers. The dazzling costumes and bright lights caught the imagination of the small spectators, who carried them home as gleams of starlight in their eyes.

It's a glow that will continue to cast its shine on the entire holiday season.

Randy Koshnick Smiles a pixie grin as Holiday on Ice performers signed his autograph book after the Sunday afternoon show. With him are Alice Quessy, Roger Basset and Joyce Lockwood. Below, staring in rapt attention at the antics of the skaters, are, first row, Corrine Kranig, Paula Kluge and Sharon Whitman; second row, Larry Hutchinson, Michael Clark and David Wagner, and top row, Donald Gavinski, a Morgan School teacher, John Warnemunde, the bus driver, Robert Hutchins and Donald Ehlke.

Tri-Y Announces Holiday Projects

YMCA Tri-Y clubs have been busy with Christmas projects during recent weeks. As part of their community service activities, the girls have chosen individual methods of bringing holiday cheer to Fox Cities residents.

Members of Cho-Cho Tri-Y made and delivered 43 Christmas wreaths to be hung on the doors at Peabody Manor. Miss Gail Freyberg, president of Shom Tri-Y, was chairman of the committee which cut out wreaths for the Y Nursery School children to decorate.

The handicapped children at Morgan School were entertained at a noon Christmas party Dec. 11 by Bodo Tri-Y. This club also made an advent wreath to be lighted at their meetings. They will entertain residents of Modern Rest Home at 7 p. m. today.

Candy Cane-Windows Large candy canes to decorate the windows of the children's ward at Appleton Memorial Hospital have been made by members of Hue Tri-Y. The decorating will be done today. Christmas trees at the hospital were decorated by Juntas Jr. members Dec. 11. This group held a Christmas bake sale at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at the Y cafeteria.

Pandora Jr. Tri-Y made Christmas decorations for Riverview Sanatorium. The ornaments and wreaths were delivered Saturday, when the girls also trimmed the tree there. Cleo Tri-Y and Athene Tri-Y clubs decorated Christmas trees in the Y lobby and George Williams Room Dec. 11. The Cleo club will carol for shut-ins today. St. Joseph Orphanage at Green Bay will receive small stuffed animals made by members of Yogi Club.

To Sing Carols Christmas carols will be sung by the Pixie Tri-Y from 7 to 8 p. m. today at the Outagamie County Home. A party for Cho-Cho Sr. and Juntas Sr. was held Friday at Alex's Manor House.

Pleides members served at a Peabody Manor party Thursday. The club will carol at 6:30 p. m. Sunday at Outagamie County Hospital and a post-caroling get-together will be held at the home of president Caren Chumbley.

A bowling party is planned by Mustapha Tri-Y Club. During their holiday vacation, members will clean the Den.

Mary Salentine Parents Tell Engagement Of Daughter

Miss Salentine was graduated from Xavier High School and attends the Accredited School of Beauty Culture, Green Bay. Her fiancé, a graduate of Menasha High School, is employed at Scott's Stores, Janesville.

A late spring wedding is planned.

Newlyweds To Reside In Virginia

BONDUEL—Norfolk, Va., will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lee Mielke. The couple exchanged marriage promises at 3 p.m. Dec. 1 at Zion Evangelical United Brethren Church. The double ring candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Merlin J. Hoeft.

The bride is the former Miss Nancy Grace Wussow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Wussow, Bonduel. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mielke, Shawano are parents of the bridegroom.

Miss Jewel Nadles, Shawano, attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Heuer, Green Bay, Miss Karen Johnke, Shawano, Miss LuAnn Schroeder, Appleton, another cousin of the bride, and Miss Joan Mielke, Allenton, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Best man was Thomas Terry, Baltimore, Md. Rodney Wussow and Lyle Wussow, brothers of the bride, Lawrence Sperberg and James Judd, Shawano, acted as groomsmen. Ushering duties were shared by Glenn Charles, Shawano, the bride's cousin, and Mr. Sperberg.

Shalagoco Country Club was the setting for a dinner, reception and dance. After a wedding trip to New York, N. Y., the couple will reside at 3824 Pleasant Ave., Norfolk.

The bride was graduated from Bonduel High School and the American Academy for Medical Assistants, Milwaukee. The bridegroom was graduated from Shawano High School and is stationed with the Navy aboard the U. S. S. Randolph.

Silver Cross Circle Hears Ticket Report

Mrs. Frank Wright, ticket chairman of the Silver Tinsel Ball, reported to members of the Silver Cross Circle of the King's Daughters when they met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Davis, 89 River Drive. The circle-sponsored event will be Dec. 29 at the Conway Hotel and is open to all Fox Cities residents. Final arrangements were discussed by Mrs. Ray Bleier, general chairman of the ball.

An auction of handmade Christmas items, proceeds of which will be used for circle-supported charities, was also held. Mrs. William Chandler was auctioneer. Co-hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. John Harkins and Mrs. Karl Manthey.

Mrs. Chandler will be hostess at the Jan. 30 meeting.

February Rite Planned by Engaged Pair

MENASHA—Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Brezinski Jr., 323 Willow Lane, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, and George Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Schmidt, 286 Gardeners Row, Appleton.

The bride-elect was graduated from Menasha High School and is employed at the George Banta Publishing Co. Her fiancé was graduated from St. Mary High School and served two years with the Army in Turkey. He is also employed at the George Banta Publishing Co.

The couple will be married Feb. 16 at St. Patrick Catholic Church.

Couple Observes 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earlin Ashman, route 2, Appleton, were honored at a surprise party and potluck supper Sunday at their home in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The couple was married Dec. 18, 1937, at Trinity Lutheran Church, Ellington. They have four children and seven grandchildren.

Tell Troth of Luella Domke, Wallace Wendt

Bed of Roses Isn't for All; Some Must Mind Home Front

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a middle-aged career girl who enjoys her work and her life. A third friend just phoned for the second time this week — she has a fellow she wants me to meet.

Why don't people just leave us alone? Why don't these do-gooders understand that many unmarried women are single by choice?

I have a fascinating job, lovely apartment, good clothes, one great vacation a year, and I wouldn't trade places with any married woman. I see them at the office—rushing around like crazy trying to perform the wife's chores during lunch hour. They dash out the door at 4:59 to do the marketing, fix supper, iron shirts and scrub floors.

The married girls in this office all look a little run down at the heels. They are helping to pay for his boat, or a car, or fishing and hunting gear—not to mention liquor and other odds and ends.

And then of course there are the in-laws. I could go on and on but by now you have the idea I wish the others would get it, too. Thanks for letting me unload.—Unclaimed Jewel by Choice

DEAR UNCLAIMED: The married girls are also married by choice. And a great many of them around this office look every bit as good as the single girls.

Not everyone wants a life in double-harness, but how nice for you and me that some people did.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read your column regularly and so does the rest of the family. You often print letters from mothers of teen-age girls who are hurt because their daughters don't confide in them.

I am 17. I have this problem with my mother. Several of my girl friends also have the same problem. We have listed the reasons girls don't confide in their mothers and here they are:

(1) Our mothers don't respect our confidences. They tell friends and relatives everything we tell them. It's very embarrassing.

(2) They make us feel that our troubles are silly and childish and they offer no help, only ridicule. (3) They are often too busy to listen. When my mother tells me to bring the subject up later I never do. (4) Instead of being sympathetic they start preaching and setting up stricter rules. This makes us sorry we said anything. Please print this letter, Ann. It could create a better understanding between two generations — Not Quite Adults.

DEAR NOT QUITE: Thank you for an excellent letter. I hope it helps.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a woman in my late 40s who is married to a man 74 years of age. We've been married four years and get along beautifully. This was no love affair and I didn't attempt to kid myself or anyone else. I married for love once, and that was enough. My present husband is a fine gentleman. He is a widower who wanted companionship. He's retired and has good investments and income property.

Since my husband's health has been failing his married son and daughter have become very unpleasant to me. I am at a loss to understand why. I've been a faithful wife to their father and have given him much happiness. I don't want my step-children to like Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with cooler by the day. Please tell your request 20 cents in coin and me what to do.—Outsider

Mother's Helper

by Helmann & Pearson

TACT IS MOST DIFFICULT to teach children. Most youngsters do not instinctively distinguish between frankness and rudeness. If your child is to be a guest, make sure she knows—for example—that even if she actively dislikes food served her, she must make no comments. "I don't care for it," thank you" is her stock response to adult questions about untouched portions.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for our booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with cooler by the day. Please tell your request 20 cents in coin and me what to do.—Outsider Ignore their unfriendliness and concentrate instead on making their father's last days happy ones.

Removing Hard Latex

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q Can anything be done about removing hardened latex rubber base paint from upholstery?

A If possible, sponge hardened paint with thinner recommended by manufacturer on paint container, this should soften paint so that it can be wiped off with a paper towel on woven upholstery or with fine steel wool on a solid surface plastic, etc. Or try softening the paint with a liquid spot remover, being sure room is well ventilated while working.

Q I have a limed oak table with a formica-type top. The hot sun melted the rubber feet on a typewriter and made many marks on the table top. Is there any way I can remove these stains or cover over them?

A: The chemicals in rubber may have permanently damaged the plastic finish. Try using a cleaner for plastic surfaces, or a one-step auto cleaner polish, following label instructions. If these are not successful in removing the stains, another layer of a plastic laminate can be applied over the present one; detailed application instructions are available from your building supplies dealer.

Most, Least-Wanted Gifts Told

Pets Preferred By Girls, Boys

If you're buying a Christmas present for a youngster this year you'd better listen carefully to what he's saying. His wants are definite and he drops brand names you may never have heard of. The supreme insult is to get something "too babyish," but they also hate things they have to grow in to.

Girls naturally go for dolls and doll clothing, wall murals for the bedroom, and suitable clothes for themselves. One comment: "I'll never wear those long pants." Mother says: "I'm not old enough to wear them. Anyway, they're too big."

Boys and girls both lean toward pets (boys want alligators and lizards, girls want kittens). Both like paint sets, stamps, coins, skates and money. Small contributions are cheerfully accepted since boys and girls seem to be saving up for "something" that changes each time more money is added or spent. Boys lean heavily toward science joined by a seven-year-old girl who asked for — "A chemistry set with real animals that are dead, like a frog or a fish, and a 'thing' you look through to study it."

Results of Survey

The statements are from American Fashion Views which questioned groups of boys and girls in the 3 to 6 age bracket, 7 to 9 age group, and 10 to 15 age group.

Boys and girls in the youngest age group prefer color books and magazines ahead of toys, but they like trains, pants and knitting sets. Next comes skates, skis and sleds, followed by robes, pajamas and underwear. Surprisingly, 77 per cent said they liked everything they received, and 31 per cent said they got everything they wanted.

But their comments betrayed their feelings. "My pajama pants are too big." "I might never get to read books because Mommy is too busy to read them to me." "The shovel I got was too big." "The racing car is too dinky and little — it makes a loud noise and doesn't work." "I got a jumping thing that you wind up and jump over. It wears me out."

Dolls Rate High

Among presents received by girls in this group, dolls rated highest as best liked, with the boys plumping for the mechanical department, including cars, trucks, trains, bulldozers, fire engines, toy cannons, and a missile set "that fires." Other special favorites included games, paints, crayons, stuffed animals, police suits, skates, sleds, a shaving set (Complete with soap, brush, razor and band-aids), blue mittens and a toy grinding gadget in which you insert ice and flavors and eat the snowy results. This latter item also turned up on the list of things wanted but didn't receive. Other things on the most wanted list included an Army suit snowplow truck, flashlight to play "spooky house," and an easel.

Toys Are First Choice

Toys were listed as "first choice" by the 7 to 9 group. Hobby equipment rated second place and included paint sets, stamps, coins, trains, model — making sets, sewing sets and sports items. Third was money, followed by books and magazines, clothes and sweaters. Radios and records tied for sixth and seventh choice.

Among the "best" gifts received, games rated first, and dolls second. Books, stuffed animals and model plane sets tied for third place. Individual favorites included a live mouse, guitar, ginger bread house, religious statue, model greenhouse, toy airport, umbrella, YMCA membership, pinball set and an intercom.

Eleven per cent — mostly boys

Pencils are being worn to a blunt end as Christmas gift lists are written, discarded and re-written. For the right gift, study the receiver and select a gift that will please his or her personality.

— said they wanted no clothing, and 88 per cent — mostly girls — said they did not want books received on King Arthur, a second cook book, a witch book that was dull. Comments made on the giant mechanical man toy, received by several, included "He's useful to keep the cat out of the window box, but not really for a boy my age." A universal complaint was that phonograph records were "too young — for babies."

Pet Requests Vary

Puppies, kittens, horses, alligators, lizards and mice were the pets asked for most often in one case tempered with the philosophical remark, "I'd like a baby pussy cat — a real one. I love cats but my Mommy doesn't like cats around." "A telephone with wires," a skin diving outfit, and a Spanish costume.

In the 10 to 15 year age group there was a three-way tie for first choice among books and magazines, money, and such hobby equipment as stamps, cameras, art supplies, model cars, electronic equipment and chemistry sets. Next were radios, records, wool sweaters, skates, skis, and sleds.

Presents Not Received

Included in the presents they would most like but didn't receive were Go-Karts, telescopes, transistor radios, tape recorders, jewelry, movie camera, a dog, and two wistfully mentioned horses.

Among the gifts received that they didn't like, books were mentioned several times, but for specific reasons "not advanced enough," "a book in German and I don't like modern German books," "a teen-age romance that's too childish for me," and, pointedly, "a book on table manners."

Feelings were expressed bluntly when it came to things they did not like. "I got a punk necklace — not my taste in jewelry. Too young and too garish." "Dress too large. Not the kind I like most. Like tight skirts, not a party dress." "Socks and pajamas just too loud for my taste." "Cocoa set from an older friend is not my taste in antique dishes." "Candy, because I'm not allowed to eat it."

Feather Dusters Back in Fashion

Feather dusters a la 1963, whether made of ostrich plumes or turkey feathers, are sterilized, pre-washed and can be "laundered" as often as needed.

In fact swishing through sudsy water improves their efficiency. Finish up by rinsing shaking off excess water and hanging them to dry with feathers down.

Window Box Look

Gardeners can give their indoor window boxes a splash of color by covering them with predecorated paneling, which comes in pleasant colors, handsome wood-grains and decorator patterns. Attach the plastic-surfaced hardboard with adhesive or contact

Women Go for Lots of Money

For Christmas she wants money, lots more money—but only if it comes from a husband or a close relative. She also likes elegant clothing, luxurious wool sweaters, good perfume, lingerie, books and magazines, gloves and candy.

She hates cheap perfume and "not her type" toilet articles, cheap and gaudy jewelry, unsuitable lingerie and pajamas, and the wrong kind of scarves, slip pers, stockings, blouses and such things as pot holders, dish towels and maternity sets.

The statements are from American Fashion Views which carried out a survey among wives, students and career girls on the gifts they liked "most" and "least" last Christmas. Some of them sounded a bit like gold-diggers when they got into the realm of wishful thinkers, but most showed a heart of gold and held their likes and dislikes within bounds.

Jewelry First Choice

Thirty six per cent of the women questioned listed real fine jewelry and watches as their first choice. Books and sweaters ran a dead heat at 31 per cent. Money and gift certificates were preferred by 28 per cent followed by clothing, furs, lingerie, handbags, good perfume, opera and theater tickets. One woman liked her new baby better than anything! Another went for a washing machine.

In the dreams' department — gifts wanted but never received — fourteen per cent said they wanted a car. Ten per cent wanted fur coats, and ten per cent wanted real diamonds and pearls. Others wanted stereo sets, vacation trips, and a painting by a famous artist. One woman wanted a new baby, another wanted a hostess gown, and one wanted a horse. One woman said she would like "no family arguments" better than anything.

Study Girl Before Buying

The survey showed very plainly that a man should study the girl before buying her Christmas present—but don't ask her, she hates that. Ask a friend or drop a delicate hint. Otherwise you'll find her returning such things as clothing (wrong size), lingerie and pajamas (wrong size or color) and cheap perfume. Other things returned were a guitar and a pair of cowboy boots. One woman was livid because someone sent her a pair of sequined stockings.

Women find parents, friends, husband and sweethearts provide the best gifts in that order, and that in-laws provide the worst. And in that category they hate people who leave price tags on, who send cheap and gaudy presents, duplicate last year's present, and send gifts that are in bad taste. Some women said they were wild if they received gifts that were too practical.

Most Like Gifts

Thirteen per cent of the women said they liked everything they got and 33 per cent said they would use everything they received. But in the list of things they said they would ignore was a china pot, an eggbeater, and the wrong kind of stationery.

They liked gifts with a personal touch—handcrafted wool sweaters, paintings, woodcuts, slippers, monogrammed ashtrays, photographs, pillowcases and handkerchiefs. And one woman said she liked a hand-made potholder very much.

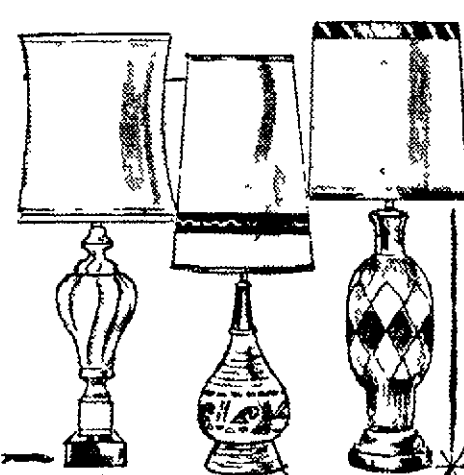

But about that money. They said one of the worst gift blunders was for an outsider (business bonuses excepted) to send money when he was not inside the family group. They also disliked expensive gifts given for the household without consultation, hobby gifts for a person who does not have that hobby—such as a holder for a non-existent coin collection.

If there is a size question about sweaters and blouses you go by the brassiere size. A 32 blouse for a 10 to 12 dress size; 34 for a 14 dress size; 36 for a 16; 38 for an 18, etc. Women usually prefer sweaters in a size larger. And if you aren't sure about the color, choose white.

Annual Party Held At Cherry Court

The Christmas season officially began in Cherry Court Monday evening when neighbors held their annual holiday party. The event began with the signing of carols. After Santa distributed gifts, the children held separate parties in the court.

teen-age youngsters met at the Leo Butler residence, 86 Cherry Court. The teens have planned a toboggan party, to be held Dec. 27.

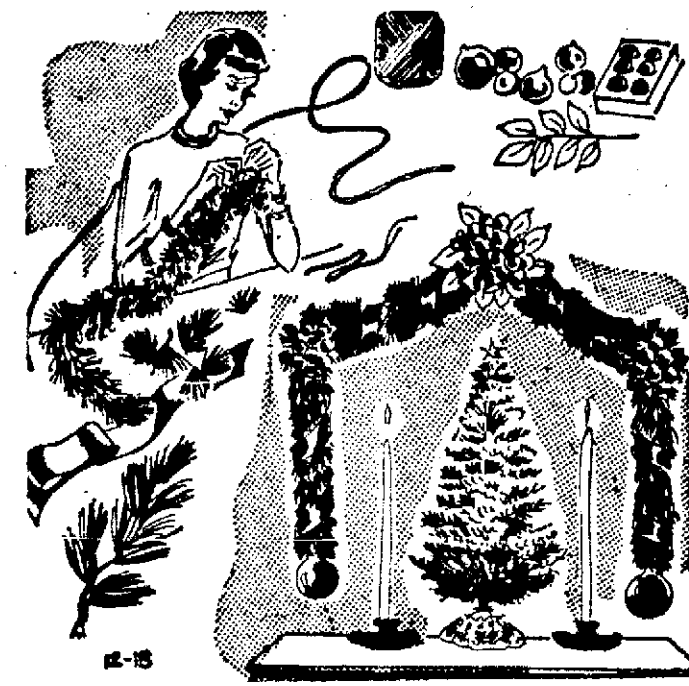

Adults attended a 9 to 11 p.m. open house Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dietz, 48 Cherry Court.

Avoid Rush

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Garlands of Greenery

Whatever the holiday decorations are otherwise, they're more beautiful with evergreen garlands. Garlands look difficult to make, but they're not at all beyond first try skill, and nothing else is more worthy of the time left for finishing touches. Makings can be twigs trimmed from trees in the yard, or from broken branches supplied by the Christmas tree man, plus fine wire and smooth rope such as woven clothesline.

Cut the twigs in 4-inch lengths. Wind the wire around the stem of a twig several times to hold it securely, then bind it to the rope. Follow through in the same way with twigs close together to make the garland thick, and use it just as it is or entwine it with ribbon and add ornaments. Drape it on the wall, over the fireplace, or over a mirror or a picture, twist it into balusters up the staircase, lay lengths of it across a festive dining table. Trimmings here are in many bright colors, but just one color can be used and is particularly effective if leaves and ribbons are metallic gold.

a rubber bridge game the other day, West opened the ten of clubs. Don't snicker. A spade lead would have given South his ninth suit. If only West can follow, trick at once. West was trying to make a safe lead, hoping that his partner could get it and return a spade in time to defeat the contract. As it happened, the club lead gave South his contract. That is, it should have; but South handed it right back. He covered with dummy's jack of clubs. It was now impossible to develop the clubs without giving East a club trick. Whenever East got in he was sure to lead the jack of spades, and that meant the end of poor South. The right play is to let West win the first trick with the ten of clubs. If it happens to be a singleton, South can never make more than two club tricks. In any other case South can surely develop three club tricks without losing the lead to East. Suppose West can lead a second club. South wins with the ace and captures the last missing club with dummy's king. If East shows dummy's jack of clubs will later win a finesse. Much the same is true if West abandons clubs after the first King's Daughters Circles have held many holiday events this month. In addition to performing their charity programs, individual groups have held social affairs for members and their husbands. The Chalice Circle, shown above and at left, was entertained at an open house from 5 to 7 p.m. Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Balliet, 325 W. Prospect Ave. At left, Mr. and Mrs. Balliet greet Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vincent. Mrs. Vincent is circle president. Above, enjoying their holiday visit, are, seated, Mrs. James Veum and Mrs. E. H. Raney. Standing are Vincent Derscheid, Mrs. C. C. Schroeder, Dr. James Veum and Dr. E. H. Raney. Above, right, the Charity Circle of the King's Daughters held a Christmas auction and tea at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Lawrence College Worcester Art Center. Handmade items were auctioned, with proceeds slated for Plamann School. Admiring the work of fellow members are Mrs. Robert Lang, Kaukauna, Mrs. Donald Jabas, Appleton tea chairman, and Mrs. James Gustman, Kaukauna, chairman of the auction.

Parent's World

Teach Children Values Of Real Holiday Spirit

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Eve Jones: I like to see my 10-year-old daughter being friendly and courteous. Generally, I do all I can to encourage her to be generous toward her friends.

But now she's asking for a special allowance from me so she can buy Christmas cards to send to her school friends, all the teachers she has ever had, and to her Sunday School friends.

I think the practice of sending cards has gotten out of hand for adults and I hate to see it spread to grade school children. But I don't know how to explain this to her without confusing her about the social responsibilities she has already learned.

MRS. R.B.

Explain that adults often need ways of expressing friendliness and concern that children don't need. Then limit her cards to her favorite and her current teacher, plus her out-of-town friends.

Help for Neglected Baby

Dear Eve Jones: I live near a girl who has a 16-month-old baby. The baby is always sick with a continuous cold and frequent fevers, as well as with a chronic, infected diaper rash. The mother never bathes the baby and when I asked her why, she said, "She doesn't like baths."

The mother never holds the baby while she's taking her bottle, and never has. I can remember seeing the baby struggling on the floor to get milk from her bottle while both parents looked at TV. The mother sleeps a lot during the day and the baby cries quite a bit. The baby never gets taken out for walks.

Is there anyone who could keep a check on this mother and teach her a few things about child care? It makes me sad to see the child treated in this manner by a mother so stupid that she doesn't even realize this is no way to take care of a child. I don't dare risk her anger by talking to this mother directly.

MRS. P.N.

Call the Juvenile Protective Assn. and ask them to investigate.

If this mother is open to help and guidance, the agency's caseworkers can aid her. If not, the agency will assume responsibility for initiating further steps that will remove the child from the parents' custody.

Send your questions to Dr. Eve Jones, care of Appleton Post-Crescent. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Letters We Would Like to Receive

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) —Excerpts from letters people would like to get but rarely do:
"Through a clerical error, our billing department undercharged a tenant these last 15 years. So you $87.63 on your last month's credit card account. But since it was our fault, and in consideration of the fact Christmas is near, we'd just like you to forget the whole matter."

"As your landlord we wish to express our appreciation of you as a tenant these last 15 years. So we are installing a new refrigerator and stove in your apartment immediately, and beginning next month your rent will be reduced $35. Anytime your wife would like to have the place repainted—at our expense naturally—please let us know."

"It is my pleasure to inform you that Premier Khrushchev was deeply impressed by the letter you wrote to your newspaper outlining the 10 basic errors of the Kremlin. He has asked me if you and your family would consent to be his guests for a two-month winter vacation in Switzerland, where he would like to meet you to discuss questions of international policy more fully. It will not be necessary to bring skis or overshoes, as they will be provided by the Soviet government."

"Our publishing firm was sent a copy of your last talk to your local Rotary Club. It is our wish to include it in a new volume we are issuing to be called, 'Great Inspirational Messages of the 20th Century.' We are enclosing a check for $500 against advance royalties."
"I found the wallet you lost in a taxi. In going through it for identification papers I came across the photo of a girl with a fresh and exciting face—a girl I take to be your daughter. As a motion picture talent scout, I wonder if she would be interested in a film career? Although we could offer her only $750 a week to start, her future earnings would be—"
"Sir, you don't know me, but I know you. I am a bus driver. Last July 19 at 8:03 a.m. on Swamp Drive you got on my bus in the White House and gave me a $5 bill. I gave you back 100 nickels in change. My conscience has been bothering me ever since. It was a near-miraculous coincidence that I stumbled across 37 old shares of AT&T stock which your aunt apparently had hidden there, thing to do, and I want you to return it to you herewith."

Further Study Scheduled for Equipment Bids

KAUKAUNA — After studying bids on end loaders and snow blowers for two and one-half hours, the purchasing committee referred the matter to the city engineer for tabulation and recommendation.

Seven bids were received ranging from low of $13,500 to a high of $18,800 on end loaders and a like number of bids on snow loaders ranged from a low of $4,300 to a high of $5,630.

Several bidders indicated they were bidding on the end loader and snow blower as a package deal and could not offer prices on individual basis. Since individual bids were asked, the committee felt additional study should be given the matter to determine whether it would be legal to accept package bids.

know it will never, never happen again."
"My wife, Jacqueline, and I are both delighted with your patriotic gift to the government of the golden oak chiffonier, circa 1904, left to you by your late Aunt Milly, and we will be glad to find a place for it in the White House. In going through one of the drawers, I stumbled across 37 old shares of AT&T stock which your aunt apparently had hidden there, thing to do, and I want you to return it to you herewith."

Ice Fishing Good On Winnebago, But Fish Are Small

Conservation Department Warns About Taking Cars Out on Lake

CHILTON — True to the Conservation Department's forecast, the winter fishing on Lake Winnebago has been productive in numbers but the trophy fish are scarce.

The ice fishing season came into its own during the past weekend and all along the east shore easy limits of walleyes and sauger pike were reported by the ice anglers. Except for an occasional three to 3½ pounder, however, the fish ran generally small, 12 to 14 inches. Somewhat surprising and certainly not recommended by the conservation and Calumet County sheriff's department was the heavy vehicular traffic on the ice at Brothertown during the weekend. Many late model cars traveled far out onto the ice. Fortunately, no break through incidents were reported.

Warned Anglers

Mrs. Leo Achter, proprietor of Fisherman's Inn, Brothertown, said all of the anglers are warned not to drive on the ice but many fail to heed the warning.

"There's no way to stop them if they want to drive on," she said. Ice as thick as 12 inches was reported off Brothertown, Mrs. Achter said, but added some as thin as two inches was also discovered.

A crack running parallel to the shoreline opened about three feet Sunday at Brothertown but was easily bridged.

Few Cars Seen

Only a few cars made their way onto the ice at Quinney Sunday but many fishermen walked out and enjoyed good fishing.

2 Candidates File Papers

Jan. 29 Deadline For Nominations In Appleton Posts

Two more Appleton residents have thrown their hats into the 1963 spring election ring.

Kenneth J. Loos, 806 Winnebago St., the incumbent 3rd Ward alderman, has filed nomination papers and is an official candidate for re-election.

Also filing at the city clerk's office was Howard P. Stumpf, 28 Weimar Ct., who listed his occupation as an evaporator operator. Stumpf is running for the 13th Ward alderman's post. He took out papers Monday and filed them today.

Grant Rohm, 834 W. Brewster St., has taken out papers for 18th Ward alderman.

The deadline for filing is Jan. 29. The terms of 10 aldermen, 11 county board supervisors and three school board members expire next spring.

To date, four residents have filed papers for aldermanic posts, two for supervisor and none for the school board.

However, residents are taking out papers daily, according to City Clerk Elden Broehm. More than 30 nominations are presently circulating around the city.

Aldermen are paid $1,200 a year; supervisors, $14 per meeting. School commissioners serve without pay.

Attempt to 'Con' Bank Funds Foiled

A state-wide alert has been sent out after an attempt to "con" $4,470 from a Fond du Lac bank failed today.

Fond du Lac police reported the bank was told to deliver the money and two government savings bonds to a switchboard at a local manufacturing company. The telephone caller described himself as an executive of the firm.

The company switchboard operator then was called and told a package was to be delivered there, but it was being delivered to the company by mistake. The switchboard operator was told to give the package to a cab driver who would be sent.

A cab company was called and told to pick up a package at the company switchboard and deliver it to a service station where someone would pick it up later.

The Fond du Lac Police Department said the caller was a male and was familiar with the company's executives. The attempt was foiled when the switchboard operator became suspicious of the call and informed other company authorities who contacted police.

Menasha Man Sent To Deviate Center

OSHKOSH — Elmer Hungerford, 33, 716A Broad St., Menasha, was ordered sent to the sex deviate facility at Waupun for a 60-day pre-sentence investigation.

Hungerford pleaded guilty Monday afternoon before County Branch 3 Judge James Sitter of taking indecent liberties with a 7-year-old girl on Aug. 11.

The story at Quinney was the same as at Stockbridge and Brothertown, plenty of action and an occasional good sized fish.

Both of the popular ice fishing methods, jigging and tipups, were used and fishermen reported about equal success.

The thaw weather Monday should improve the ice, most tavern-resort people felt. By melting some of the snow away, the ice will again be deprived of its insulating quality. When low temperature return, the ice will thicken quickly.

Theft Charges To Be Joined

Chicagoans Agree To Plead Guilty In Columbia Court

Outagamie County Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer said today he has consented to a consolidation with three other counties in charges against two Chicago Negroes charged with fur theft from an Appleton department store.

Schaefer said Miss Geraldine Gay, 28, and Miss Angela Jones, 23, will be tried in Columbia County Friday. They will face charges from Winnebago and Portage as well as Columbia and Outagamie County.

In the application for consolidation, the two women, who have been charged with taking over $1,200 in two fur pieces from Geenen Department Store in April, have agreed to plead guilty to all charges.

The two, along with two men companions, were arrested April 16 in Columbia County when they were seen taking a bottle of perfume from a drug store.

The two women's companions, Eddie King, 28, and Willie Williams, 23, are still awaiting action in Outagamie County where they are to be tried in January. King is in Outagamie County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond. He has been confined there since May. Williams is free on payment of bond. Both men are from Chicago.

Additional Treatment Ordered in Morals Case

OSHKOSH — Further treatment at the sex deviate facility at Waupun was ordered by County Judge James Sitter for Alois Metzner, 49, 302 W. 14th Ave., Oshkosh, who in October pleaded guilty to taking indecent liberties with a 15-year-old boy on Oct. 14.

Metzner was returned today from the Waupun facility where he had been sent for a 60-day pre-sentence investigation. Further treatment was requested by the state.

Yule Buying Up Over Last Year

Spot Check of Fox Cities Stores Indicates Activity Still Good

The level of Christmas holiday buying remains substantially above the 1961 mark in the Fox Cities, according to a spot check of Appleton, Neenah-Menasha and Kaukauna business places.

Store managers were, in general, well satisfied with the customer traffic Friday and Saturday, although several noted that their weekend business represented a leveling off from heavy buying earlier in the week.

"Christmas activity has been good, but Saturday was quiet as compared to Friday," said the spokesman for a dealer in electrical goods.

"We're Ahead" The spokesman for a woman's apparel shop said "business is ahead, and I hope it stays that way."

"It is okay...very good...above last year," said the manager of a fourth department store.

A furniture dealer said last weekend was just about the same as the same period a year ago, but that this week was "starting out real good."

The manager of another department store termed Christmas business as "about comparable to last year," while the spokesman for a third department store said weekend turnover was "excellent" and that "sum and substance," business "will be above last year."

"We feel it's holding up very nicely as compared to last year," said a shoe store official. He added, however, that there are "too many nights open...In my opinion they (the long hours) haven't helped business any."

The burglar forced a drawer in the Lullabye Shop and took the cash there. Police said nothing else was discovered missing.

Detectives said no signs of forced entry to either of the buildings were found and determined the burglar or burglars stayed in the store room at the rear of the Lullabye Shop until the store closed about 9 p.m. The two stores are connected by a doorway in the basement.

OSHKOSH—Notice of an appeal to Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane from the county condemnation commission's award for land taken for highway purposes has been filed by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hughes of the Town of Neenah.

They own land along the widened portion of U.S. 41 in the Town of Vinland. The county highway committee, acting for the State Highway Department, had issued an award in March of 1961 as to the value for the .74 of an acre needed for the four-laning of U.S. 41.

Hughes declined this award and the matter then went to the county condemnation commission which issued its award on Nov. 14 of this year. Hughes is appealing this award to the circuit court.

Highway Commission Completes Distribution Of Registration Fees

MADISON (AP) — The State Highway Commission reported today it has completed distribution of $6,828,517 of motor vehicle registration fees to Wisconsin cities, towns and villages.

The money is the final portion of $39 million in all roads funds returned to local units of government during the year, the commission said.

This year's license and title fee distribution is $83,112 less than the peak of $6.9 million in 1961. This resulted from an approximate 1.2 per cent decrease in net fees. Cities receive a total of $3,966,121, towns $2,118,365 and villages $744,031.

The allocation is based on registration and title fees for vehicles kept in respective municipalities.

Council Committee Hits 'Moonlighting'

County Accepts Bids to Buy New Equipment

Trucks, Spreaders, Snow Plows Among Items Approved

Bids totaling $39,777 were accepted for the purchase of two trucks, six sand and salt spreaders and four reversible, rigid-type snow plows last week by the Outagamie County highway committee.

Low bidder for the two trucks was Sherry Motors, Inc., Appleton. The county will purchase two Ford trucks at a bid price of $7,450 each at a total of $14,900. However, the county was allowed a trade allowance of $850 on one of its trucks, and will pay an additional $266 for front power take off, making the net price $14,316.

Unsuccessful bidders were Baur Truck and Equipment, Inc., Appleton; Melchert Brothers Garage, Seymour; Fox Valley Truck Service Co., Appleton, and Peotter Mack Sales, Appleton.

The gross weight of each Ford truck, model F950, is 30,000. Low Bidder

Paynter Equipment Corp., Green Bay, was low bidder for the six sand and salt spreaders. Paynter's bid was for $3,130 each for two of the units, and $2,980 each for the other four units, less a trade allowance of $255 for two of the present county spreaders. The net price for the six spreaders is $17,670.

Others bidders for the spreaders were Construction Machinery and Supply Co., Inc., Appleton; Miller, Bradford and Risberg, Inc., Eau Claire, and Drott Tractor Co., Inc., Milwaukee.

The Drott Tractor Co., Inc. was awarded the bid for the four reversible and rigid-type blade plows at a bid price of $1,244 each for two of the units, less a two per cent discount, and for $2,731 each for the other plows, less a two per cent discount, for a net price of $7,791.

The cost of office furniture for the recently hired record clerk at the Appleton municipal garage was a major discussion topic Monday before the street and sanitation committee.

The committee had before it a request for a new desk, the prices ranging from $125 to $166; a swivel chair, priced from $52 to $64; and filing cabinets.

"I sure hate to see that kind of equipment go into such an old building," commented one alderman.

"The prices are too high—I bought two used chairs for my office for $7," commented another.

Used Furniture "Maybe we could get some of this furniture on sale or buy the necessary items at an auction," suggested a third committee member.

"Let's send the man out Tuesday and Wednesday to look for some 'bargains,'" volunteered another.

The committee approved purchase of filing cabinets — three of them for $75 — because a Green Bay firm offered them as "a special bargain."

The record clerk, the first the department of public works has had to keep tab on the city's equipment on a cost-accountant basis, started work Dec. 1.

He has an office, but no equipment. "We tried to buy some used office equipment but it cost almost as much as the figures I quoted you for a new desk and chairs," Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe told the committee.

Policemen, Firemen Holding Other Jobs Discussed During Session of Appleton Group

Should city employees, including firemen and policemen, be prohibited from "moonlighting"? The answer may be supplied in the not too distant future by the common council's personnel committee, which held a lengthy meeting at city hall Monday night.

"Moonlighting is the practice of holding an 'outside' job over one's regular employment. Some municipalities have ordinances against it."

The committee broached the subject of "moonlighting" briefly when Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th) appeared on behalf of fire department personnel salary adjustments. Merit raises are being granted some city employees in various departments to eliminate inequities that exist in the salary schedules.

Members of the personnel committee said to their knowledge there was no ordinance preventing a city employee from holding another job. There was discussion on what salaries should be readjusted within the fire department.

Both Fire Chief Roland Kuehl and Police Chief Earl Wolff said today there is a rule on the books against "moonlighting" but it has not been enforced over the years.

"The common council has a rule that the men are not supposed to work on other jobs but it was relaxed during World War II and has not been enforced since," commented Chief Kuehl.

Asked if firemen are engaged in "moonlighting," Kuehl replied, "I think they all do except half-time of the Oshkosh State Stevens Point basketball game, hours a day and put in a 40-hour week. The extra income helps them live a little better," the chief said.

Assumed Duties Police Chief Wolff, who assumed his duties as head of the Appleton Police Department early in 1962, said in recent weeks he has given instructions to some of his men to "discontinue moonlighting."

"I have found some instances in which the 'outside' work was not compatible with police activities running for the title are Bob Penzenstadler and Jim Berger, when given instructions to discontinue this," Wolff said.

Both chiefs intimated that improved pay schedules for the men in their respective departments would help eliminate "moonlighting."

Started Enforcement "I found after coming to Appleton that 'moonlighting' was something done in the past and automatically accepted," Wolff said. However, he is starting to enforce the rule against it.

It was estimated by Wolff that 53 per cent of the men on the police department have jobs with outside income.

"It's a matter of raising their standard of living," he said. "The starting pay for a policeman or a fireman is $380 per month, plus some fringe benefits."

No Driver's License Brings Fine of $150 OSHKOSH — Peter W. Paulick, 22, 128 W. South Park Ave., Oshkosh, was fined $150 and costs with an alternative of 90 days in the county jail for driving without a valid driver's license. He admitted the charge, the third such in slightly more than a year, before County Judge James Sitter this morning.

He was arrested this morning on a warrant ordered by the judge after Paulick failed to appear earlier to answer the Oct. 27 violation.

Committee Thinks Furniture Costs Too High for Office

The cost of office furniture for the recently hired record clerk at the Appleton municipal garage was a major discussion topic Monday before the street and sanitation committee.

Kaukauna Board Okays Incinerator

City Will Hike Monthly Dump Fee to $750

KAUKAUNA — The board of public works Monday evening voted to recommend to the council an agreement with Richard and Joseph Lehrer to raise the monthly dump contract fee from $450 to $750 a month if the dump operators build an incinerator.

Lehrer had asked the council for the action earlier this year when the present dumping contract was renewed and the incinerator was still in the talking stage. Richard Lehrer indicated the incinerator site had the approval of the regional planning commission. It indicated the smoke and odor nuisance of the dump, objected to by some citizens, would be eliminated with construction of an incinerator. Plans call for the incinerator to be put into operation in 1963.

The dump operators have offered the city a 5-year contract at $750 a month with the option of renewing the contract for five years with no increase in cost.

Citizen Objects

Joseph Van Daalwyk appeared before the board objecting to a statement which indicated his snow removal equipment was not available when needed by the city for snow removal purposes.

The statement was made earlier this month when aldermen voted not to renew a contract which provided Van Daalwyk furnish additional equipment to the city during periods of heavy snow. For this service he was to receive a guaranteed annual fee plus additional charges above the guaranteed amount when that amount was reached based on a per hour rate.

Investigation showed Van Daalwyk had never refused an official call for assistance with equipment. Lone refusal came when an unauthorized person sought Van Daalwyk to plow out a private road. Involved, said Van Daalwyk, were two city workers who didn't want to walk 1,000 feet from the dump to the main road.

Other Action

Approval was given to payment of about $15,000 to Lee Parker for concrete street work, $5,795 to Brennan - Rolland for storm sewer work and $5,000 to Bloy Construction for sidewalk work.

Board members accepted Twentieth Street as recommended by the city engineer and instructed the engineer to continue work on storm sewer plans for the Tenth Street playground area and the extension of storm sewer in the Marsh area to High Street.

A request from citizens to remove trucks from County Trunk J to OO was tabled. Board members felt they had no jurisdiction on regulating truck traffic on county roads.

A letter from the state informing the city it would be permissible to change speed limits on County Trunk OO, old U.S. 41, was referred to the public protection and safety committee.

Retired Doctor From Oshkosh Dies in Crash

Dr. W. P. Wheeler Killed in City Car-Train Collision

OSHKOSH — Dr. William P. Wheeler, 84, 412 Church Ave., Oshkosh, was killed here late Monday afternoon when the car he was driving collided with a Soo Line freight train at the Algoma Boulevard crossing in downtown Oshkosh.

His death is the fifth traffic fatality for Oshkosh this year and the 21st in the county. He was taken in the Moore Ambulance to Mercy Hospital and was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital at 5:17 p.m. Monday.

According to the examining physician, Dr. Wheeler sustained a skull depression on the right side and serious scalp lacerations, either of which could have caused death instantaneously.

Dr. Wheeler was headed west on Algoma Boulevard when his car collided with a southbound freight train at 5:11 p.m. When police arrived, the train had to be separated to get at the body which was lying partially out of the car and almost wedged between the train and vehicle.

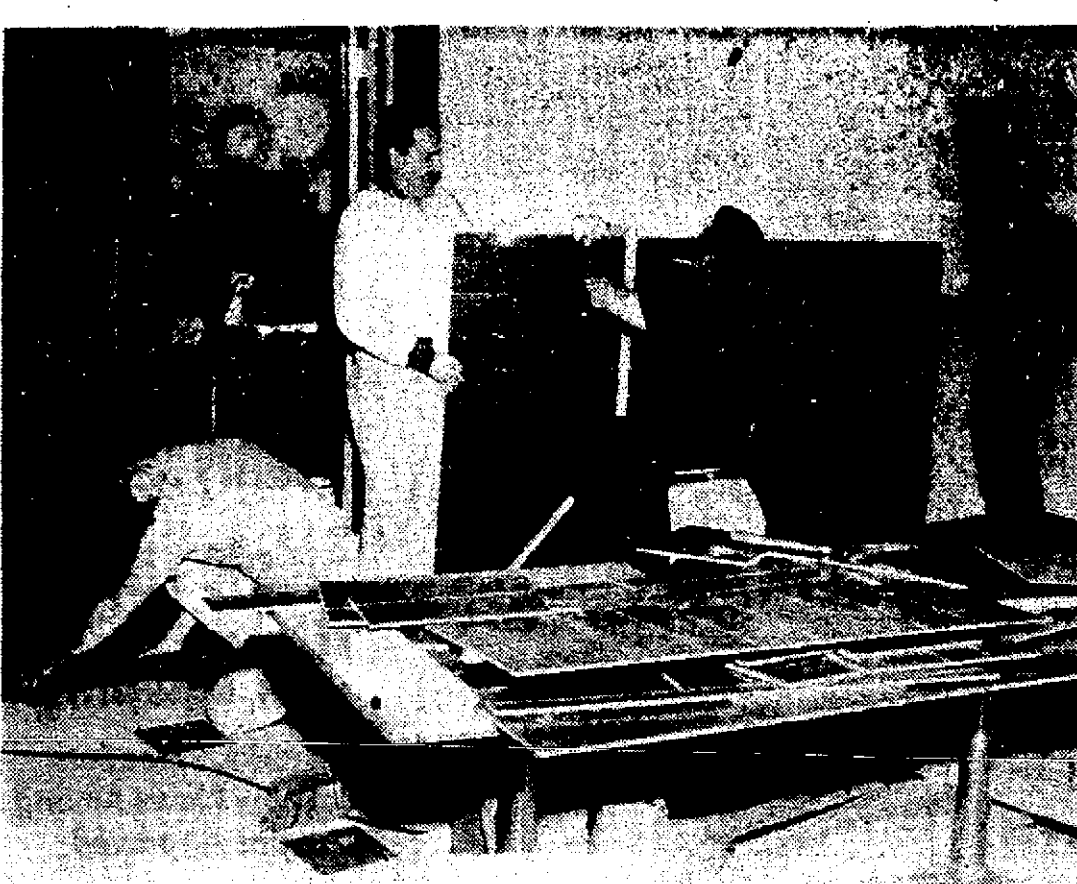

The Soo Line engineer said the flasher warning lights were operating as the train approached the Algoma boulevard crossing, but that the Wheeler car continued on into the path of the locomotive.

The train, which the engineer said was going about 20 miles per hour, was braked to a stop about five railroad car lengths from the point of impact.

Mrs. Romona Zuchowski, 29, Kenosha, died Monday when her car skidded on an icy stretch of Highway 50 and struck a tree. The accident occurred about 10 miles west of Kenosha. Mrs. Zuchowski was alone.

Dr. Wheeler was born in Alburgh Center, Vt., Aug. 6, 1878. He was cashier at the Omro bank for six years before entering medical training. He graduated from the Wisconsin College of Physicians and Surgeons, Milwaukee and did post graduate work at Columbia University.

During World War I, Dr. Wheeler was on the selective service board as contract physician. He was city of Oshkosh physician from 1939 to 1957, on the medical staff at Central State Hospital, Waupun, from 1951 until 1958 and

3 Milwaukee Judges Try to Up Pensions

Seek 'Prior Service Credit' for Work in Lower Courts

MADISON (AP)—The attorney for three Milwaukee circuit court judges asked in Circuit Court here Monday that the Wisconsin Retirement Fund permit them to have what spokesmen for the fund have called "double pensions."

The request was filed by Judges Harvey L. Neelen, Robert C. Cannon and Leo B. Hanley, Reserve Circuit Court Judge William O'Connell of Beaver Dam took the petition under advisement and asked for written briefs.

Maurice Pasch, Madison, attorney for the retirement fund, told the hearing, "If the judges should prevail in their request for a double pension, Wisconsin would be the first state in the union where a retirement system permits this kind of double pensions."

Stewart Honeck, attorney for the judges in the action started

five years ago, said the jurists want "prior service credit" for service in lower courts. He objected to the use of the phrase "double pensions."

The three judges participated in the retirement system of the lower courts in Milwaukee County, then came under the state plan when elected circuit judges. Two other Milwaukee judges, Myron Gordon, now of the State Supreme Court, and Herbert Stefes of Circuit Court, also would receive any additional benefits secured through the action.

As an important cog in the Post-Crescent circulation machinery, Del's duties are extremely varied. He is in constant contact with newscarriers and their customers in such community areas as New London, Waupaca, Ogdensburg, Weyauwega, Medina, Bear Creek, Marion, Hortonville, Seymour, Black Creek, Bonduel, Poyissippi, and many other communities where thousands of Post-Crescent subscribers reside.

Del is constantly "on the go," working far past dinner hours helping carriers acquire new customers, assisting them with collections, "trouble-shooting" complaints, rallying "his boys" during contests, checking records, advising them, and, in general, helping them as they assume the responsibilities of good citizenship.

Del's job is one which combines adult understanding with the ability to show patience and judgement in the face of the problems of youth. Basically, like all the district supervisors, he just has to like boys. He does.

- * Dellas J. Vandenberg, a native of Appleton, resides with his wife, the former Beverly Hoier, at 519 W. Michigan St. The couple has six children who answer to Bonnie, Jeffery, Brian, Mark, Steven and Lori Ann. Bonnie is a student at St. Pius School and Jeffery attends Franklin School. Lori Ann is a real newcomer having arrived as late as last Saturday, Dec. 15.
- * Del has been associated with the Post-Crescent for many years, first as a newscarrier, then doing part time work in the mailing room.
- * He attended St. Joseph's Catholic School, later graduated from Appleton Senior High School. The family attends St. Pius Church and Del is a member of Holy Name Society and the St. Pius P.T.A.
- * The present circulation department supervisor is a former member of the Grand Chute Fire Department, was treasurer of the organization for two years.
- * Vandenberg's chief interests are hunting and woodworking. Though his work leaves him little spare time, he is very interested in youth activities.

Explore Reasons Behind the Change to Number Calling

Groups of Irate Phone Customers Bitterly Protest Change-Over

BY SYLVIA PORTER In San Francisco, a group of angry telephone users banded together into the Anti-Digit Dialing League have just filed a suit with the California Utilities Commission to force the telephone company to halt its "incipient scheme" to switch to All-Number Calling—the system under which our familiar, colorful telephone exchanges are to be replaced by numbers. In cities across the country similar groups of irate telephone customers are bitterly protesting the change-over, denouncing it, as the ADDL suit charges, as one more "snatching of the human element in our lives which needs so much protection in this age of the machine."

Why the switch-over? What next? Here, from Eugene J. McNeely, president of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., are your answers. Porter: Why are you giving up the familiar exchanges in favor of as many as 13 numbers for long-distance calls is widely resented. Why are you doing it? McNeely: First, let me emphasize telephone people regret having to change the numbering system and we share our customers' attachment for exchange names. But we must keep pace with telephone growth, and All-Number Calling is the solution which offers the most advantages with the least change in existing dialing habits.

Prelates Named Who Will Redraft Council Proposals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII named members of a special commission today to coordinate redrafting of proposals before the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council. When the council began a nine-month recess Dec. 8, the Pope told its 12 drafting commissions to use the recess to condense and consolidate proposals. He said a special commission would coordinate the work of the 12 commissions. Today he named six cardinals and six prelates to this important coordinating body. The nominees: Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York; Achille Cardinal Lienart, bishop of Lille, France; Julius Cardinal Döpfner, archbishop of Munich, Germany; Leg. Jozef Cardinal Suenens, archbishop of Malines-Brussels, Belgium; Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, secretary of the Consistorial Congregation, and Giovanni Cardinal Urbani, patriarch of Venice, Italy.

Six Prelates The six prelates are Archbishop Pericle Felicie, secretary of the Vatican Ecumenical Council; and the five undersecretaries of the council. The five undersecretaries are: Archbishop John Joseph Krol of Philadelphia, Pa.; Archbishop Pierre Vuillet, auxiliary of Paris; Bishop Wilhelm Kempf of Limburg, Germany; Archbishop Casimiro Morcillo Gonzales of Zaragoza, Spain; and Archbishop Philippe Nabaa of Beirut of the Melchites.

Vatican circles said all council elements — progressives, conservatives and moderates — appear to be represented. The other council bodies will be examined 70 projects, or these, drafted by precouncil committees. Pope John has asked that these proposals be boiled down to 20.

Some prelates have said the council could last years, but the Pope has expressed the hope it would finish by Christmas 1963. It opened Oct. 11, and resumes its work next Sept. 8.

Short Story by Faculty Member Gets Recognition

A short story by a Lawrence College faculty member has been selected as one of the "Distinctive Short Stories in American Magazines, 1961." "Woman's Work," by Dr. Warren Beck of the English department, was originally printed in the September 1961 issue of Country Beautiful, a nationally circulated magazine published in Elm Grove.

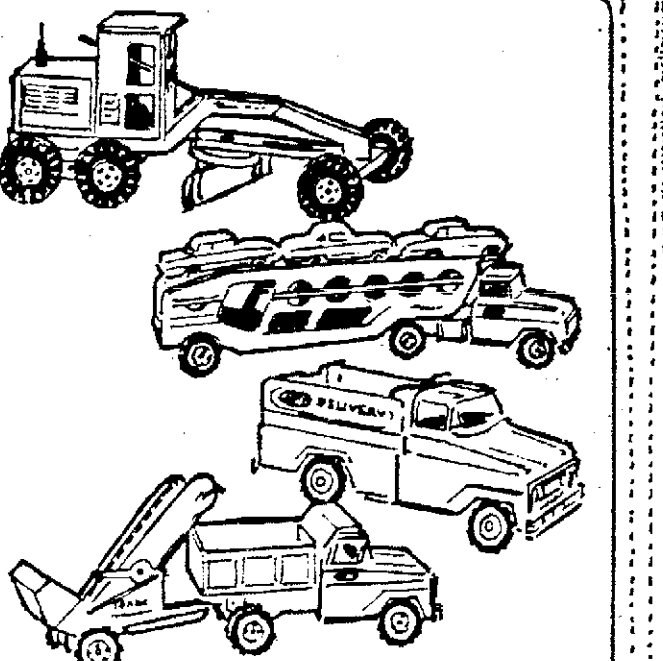

The list, including about 100 pieces of writing, is included in the book "Best American Short Stories, 1962," edited by Martha Foley and David Burnett.

The list is separate from the story reprints in the book. Beck has had stories reprinted in five past volumes, and has been included on the distinctive list a number of times. One of his stories was also chosen for a summary volume, "The Best of the Best Short Stories, 1915-50."

Beck has also written an article on the treatment of religious themes in modern fiction and drama for a forthcoming issue of Country Beautiful. A novelist, short story writer and critic, Beck's work has appeared both in America and in Europe. In addition to his books, he has been published in such diverse magazines as Mademoiselle, the Kenyon Review, the Yale Review and the Virginia Quarterly Review.

OSHKOSH — Warrants have been sent to the United States Marshal's office at Chicago today charging John W. Meagher, alias John "Bud" Scott, with armed robbery and Frank Raymond Suckow, alias Frank Raymond Zidek, with aiding and abetting in an armed robbery. Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber said today.

The FBI has announced the arrest of Meagher at Chicago and indicated that Suckow is in a Chicago area hospital as the result of a Dec. 2 automobile accident.

Both are charged in connection with the armed robbery Feb. 5 of the Red Owl store on W. Murdock Avenue, from which $1,800 was taken.

The FBI entered the case then because a stolen car, believed used by these two men and a third person, who has not been named, was abandoned on Congress Street here near the Paine Art Center.

The warrants for the two men were issued last week by Winnebago County authorities upon information as to the identity furnished by the FBI.

Two Carried Guns
Three men entered the grocery store shortly after 8:15 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 5 and one of them took a grocery cart and started filling it with groceries.

A second man stopped Harold Stark, store manager, as he came out of his office with a cash drawer for a register, and showed him a gun and told him to act normal.

The third man then went in the store office. They forced Stark and another employee to give them the money from the office safe and then went through a checkout counter, paying for $7.16 of groceries.

Two of the three men were armed, Oshkosh police were told.

Menasha Studies Move Motors Up
To Retire 65 Years Old On Wall Street

MENASHA — The Common Council, meeting in a committee of the whole session Monday night, renewed plans to draft an ordinance requiring compulsory retirement for Menasha city employees at the age of 65 and heard a proposal that the position of city building inspector be made a part-time job and possibly the duties of the office be given to the city assessor.

No immediate action is expected on the proposal. Council will continue discussion on the retirement ordinance at its regular session tonight.

The ordinance will come before council as originally proposed by the ordinance and resolution committee. However, the number of persons who would be affected by the ruling has been narrowed after a review of state statutes by City Atty. Richard Steffens.

Affected City employees who will be affected by the ordinance if it is approved include Daisy Bruehl and Evelyn Nelson, Elisha D. Smith Library; H. O. Haugh, health officer; Tom Zeininger, assessor; Paul Radtke, bridge; Myrtle Macauley, school lunch program; Agnes Holloran, city office; Ernest Isherwood, John Jedwabny, and Harry Retzlaff, utilities; Walter Eltgott, sanitation; and David Bretthauer, parks.

Several employees 65 or over or due to become 65 within the next year indicated plans for retirement before the ordinance was proposed.

Steffens told council members Tuesday night that fire and police department personnel are exempt from an ordinance of this type enacted by city council. Reason is that fire and police personnel come under a police-fireman pension plan instead of the Wisconsin retirement fund.

Teachers Exempted
Steffens also noted that teachers in the area have enacted a retirement plan of their own.

Aldermen asked that immediate action be taken on the proposal since certification of several personnel who are in the 65 age range is scheduled for review by common council tonight.

However, a vote on the ordinance may be delayed several weeks so that the ruling can be studied further. Even if passed, the ordinance would not become effective until next year; thus would not interfere with certification of employees at this time.

Combine Posts
Sixth Ward Ald. Donald H. Kemps suggested that council eliminate the building inspector's post as a full-time job.

He said he believed a more qualified person was needed to handle the job of building inspector.

"I don't feel a plumber is qualified to inspect buildings," he said.

He compared the Menasha system to that of Neenah where the offices of assessor and building inspector are combined.

"I personally think if we could hire a good man... someone who has been in construction work... and real estate, he could take over both the assessor and building inspector's job," Kemps said.

Has Worked
Kemps said he had talked to building inspector Allen Merrill, who, according to Kemps, told him that the dual job would work out "real fine." He said other cities in Wisconsin used a building inspector in this capacity and were satisfied with the arrangement.

"I think we should seriously look into this," he said.

"I think we can get a better man for the job than a plumber for the job of building inspector," Kemps said.

There are not enough homes being built in Menasha to require both a full time building inspector and full time plumbing inspector. He said it would save money and a better job would be done if the building inspector's job were made part time.

Six Apply
His suggestion came after Mayor John Klein announced six applications for the building inspector post, which will be vacated Dec. 31.

He said he has received two applicants from Milwaukee, one from Pulaski and three from Menasha.

He told council he will check recommendations and qualifications of the applicants further before he makes a recommendation on hiring one of the six men or pursuing Alderman Kemp's suggestion.

Dow Jones Average
At Noon Off .62,
Stands at 644.87

NEW YORK (AP) — Improvement among the motors and selected issues cut many early losses and produced an irregular price pattern on the stock market early this afternoon.

The upturn lacked enthusiasm and trading remained relatively light, as it has been for the last three sessions.

Prices opened lower but minus signs began to disappear soon after Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges reported national production moving at a record clip and predicted it would continue upward just as fast next year.

Chrysler and General Motors experienced some demand and advanced. AT&T erased an early small loss and posted a gain in increased activity.

IBM, up 1½ at the opening, gave up a point of that gain and then jumped ahead by 3 at one time.

Utility, oil and drug sections all showed a majority of small plus signs.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .3 at 240 with industrials down .5, rails up .1 and utilities off .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .62 at 644.87. This indicator was off nearly 2 an hour earlier.

Aircrafts and airlines were generally small fractions lower. So were the chemicals and rubbers.

Steels opened mostly lower as industry production fell to a one-month low. Some of these prices turned around and Republic was up a fraction and Bethlehem unchanged. U.S. Steel and Jones and Laughlin remained lower.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed in light trading. Bond prices were irregular in fairly active early dealings.

Reckless Driving,
Speeding Cost $125
OSHKOSH — Gordon R. Sawicki, 19, 1426 W. Murdock Ave., Oshkosh, pleaded guilty Monday after the charge was reduced from drunken driving at the request of City Atty. Fintan Flanagan.

County Branch 3 Judge James Sitter fined Sawicki $100 and costs for the reckless driving and $25 for the speeding. The points assessed for the two violations were sufficient to cause a loss of Sawicki's driver's license. He was arrested by Oshkosh police Nov. 29.

Change in Garbage Pick Up Ordinance Will be Delayed

MENASHA — Plans to allow Menasha residents to include tin cans in with garbage for pick up by city garbage disposal crews have been temporarily delayed for further study.

City of Menasha Health Officer H. O. Haugh Monday night appeared before the common council in a meeting of the committee of the whole and requested aldermen to reconsider the plans. City Atty. Richard Steffens was instructed to prepare an amendment to the ordinance and rubbish disposal ordinance of Menasha by the ordinance and resolution committee.

He said he was last week to be presented to council at tonight's meeting.

No Separation
The amendment would eliminate separation of combustibles from non-combustibles in garbage and rubbish insofar as tin cans go.

It would allow housekeepers to put tin cans in with garbage, providing the cans were opened or punctured on at least one end.

Pressurized cans or glass would not be allowed to be mixed with garbage.

Haugh contended the amendment would mean an extra work load on garbage pick up men.

Area Nearly Filled
Mayor Klein said need for the amendment was demonstrated by the fact that the present area for dumping non-combustibles will be filled up in approximately 18 months. Allowing tin cans to be mixed with garbage would lengthen the time in which the dumping area can be used, he said.

Haugh said residents need to become more familiar with the program before it is enacted. He suggested a delay.

The matter was referred to committees for further study.

All Kaukauna Hospital Heads Are Re-Elected

Administrator Says 3,128 Admitted; 93 Less Than in '61

KAUKAUNA — All directors were re-elected at the annual Kaukauna Community Hospital Association meeting Monday evening.

Named to 3-year terms were Mrs. Genevieve Anderson, Dr. George Boyd, A. M. Schmalz, Eric Wussow and Charles Rieckert. Named to 1-year terms were Joseph Bayorleon, Eugene Haen, Joseph McCarty, Joseph Schouten and James McFadden.

Mrs. Berenice Elliott, hospital administrator, reported 3,128 patients were admitted during the year, 93 less than last year. Sur-gicals numbered 945 including 252 major and 362 minor while 226 were tonsillectomies. The total is 22 more than 1961 including 24 more majors, 63 more minors and 60 less tonsillectomies.

Medical patients for the year numbered 1,560 or 47 less than last year and deliveries numbered 575 or 65 less than last year. Emergency cases treated num-bered 352 and hospital deaths to-taled 51 or 10 less than 1961.

Laboratory procedures increas-ed 4,568 to 17,280 and X-ray pro-cedures increased 96 to 3,299. Pa-tient days amounted to 13,269 or 340 less than last year. Low hos-pital occupancy figure was 41.59 per cent and high was 92.59 per cent for a 61.85 per cent average. Average stay of patients was 4.242 days.

Total payroll for the 82 employ-ees was listed at $237,734. Dr. George Boyd, president, announc-ed a 65 per cent occupancy was needed to enable the hospital to break even. The total for the year was slightly below this figure. He said a pay increase of between 5 and 6 per cent had been given em-ployees as an effort was made to continue the fine record of the hospital.

He praised the staff and classed the hospital as one of the most modern and best equipped in the area or state. The auditor report indicated the hospital was being operated on a sound financial basis and operating revenues were sufficient to meet expendi-tures.

Mrs. Malcolm Jacobson, presi-dent of the Hospital Auxiliary, told of money spent by that or-ganization to improve the hospi-tal during the past year and indi-cated the project for next year was the purchase of a $1,200 stry-ker frame. The unit spent $1,325 on improving the hospital in the past year. A report was given on membership and plans for future improvements at the hos-pital.

Driver in Good Condition After Car Flips Over

Kenneth Schmelzel, 18, route 1, Appleton, is in good condition today at the New London Com-munity Hospital where he was taken after his car left County Trunk M and flipped over about 5 p.m. Monday.

County police said Schmelzel was driving south on M when his car darted across the road, flipped over and came to rest on its top in a roadside ditch. The ac-cident occurred one mile north of Hortonville.

Schmelzel received injuries to his hip and back and a possible severe concussion.

'I Am' Introduction Adds Literary Touch to Appleton City Directory

BY HAROLD KURTZ
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

After reviewing the new Fox Cities telephone directory, it was inevitable that the next assignment would be: Okay, write a review of the new city directory.

And while chances were pretty good that you got a copy of the phone directory, chances are equally good that you won't be getting the Appleton City Directory — mainly because it costs 40 bucks a copy.

So if you're looking for a present for the person who has everything, you might give the directory. However, if your gift recipient lives in Walla Walla, Wash., you might try a different gift suggestion.

Literary Forward

While there is little in the way of literary effort to make the phone directory a noteworthy volume, the city directory has a somewhat literary forward called "I am," extolling the virtues of owning a city directory.

Among other things, it points out a directory "unites long-lost friends," "traces the criminal to his hiding place" and opens "channels of trade."

The nice thing about the directory though, if you don't own a phone, you aren't listed in the phone directory. But if you live in Appleton, you'll be listed in the directory.

Other helpful listings include streets block by block, telling you how many live in each house and how many live at the address, churches, schools, city and county officials and general information.

One helpful listing is reverse telephone numbers. Say, for instance, you step out of the office.

When you get back you find a note to call, say 9-2973. You think it might be some stupid idiot you don't want to phone. So you check the phone listing. You find you're right — so you don't call.

Who's on First

So you want to know who's on first — first place, that is. Well, it's the AAA Accredited-Vogue Artist salon. And, 705 pages later, Nicholas Zylstra is the last.

And in the "bet you didn't know this" department, the directory claims that out of every 100 people listed, within a year, 16-18 per cent will move away or die, 17-19 per cent will be new listings and 26-29 per cent will change address or change jobs. All of which is listed by the publishing company as a not-so-subtle hint that you should buy a directory each year and not rely on your old one.

A few other facts, noteworthy or not: the cover is sort of a bluish green this year, something new; there are four different colors of paper; it's published by the Johnson Publishing Co. of Manitowoc.

Incidentally, the format's been changed slightly. All names are listed under one surname heading.

And as a touching, closing comment, let me conclude with the final words of the directory: "It takes the 'Who is it?' out of your neighborhood and adds another link to your chain of friendship."

Touching, isn't it?

Order Filed To Halt Sale Of School

Kimberly Couple Cites 'Reverter' Clause to Court

An injunction and order to show cause was filed in Clerk of Courts Sydney M. Shannon's office Monday which again will halt the auction of the Speel School building and contents, slated for Saturday.

The injunction specifically prohibits the sale and advertising for sale of the school building. The order to show cause will be heard Dec. 27 before Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell, who signed the injunction.

District Divided

The Speel School district was divided among Appleton, Kaukauna, Kimberly and Wrightstown last summer under the school re-organization law. Because Appleton did not want to use the school building, which was on the part of the Speel district attached to Appleton, the apportionment board of the four districts decided to sell the building and contents and divide the assets.

The order to show cause will determine why an injunction should not be granted restraining the defendants (the four school districts) from offering for sale, selling, transferring or removing the school building, furnace or water system from its location.

Mr. and Mrs. John Welhouse, Kimberly, sought injunction and claim to be owners of the property on which the school is located because of a "reverter" clause in the contract which goes back to 1916, and says the land reverts back to the owner if it ceases to be used for school purposes.

Cites Clause

Under the clause, according to Welhouse, the property is to be returned to the descendants of the original owners in a complete state, including the building.

One-half acre of the school site reverted to the owner following attachment, and the apportionment board sold the other half-acre of land to Welhouse for $50. He claims the building should go with the land.

Estimates of the value of the building and contents have ranged from $200 to $1,000. An auction was set once before in September, but was called off because of the legal complications. The apportionment board later decided to go ahead with the auction unless stopped by legal action.

22, according to Wranosky He said the company was depositing waste material from manufacturing processes into the river illegally.

Plant Manager R. V. Kassner, testified today that the firm has taken steps to correct the procedure and that the corrections will be completed in April. He said a process which was put into operation several years ago was ineffective and would be replaced.

Santa Claus to Visit Kaukauna With Reindeer

KAUKAUNA — Retail merchants of the city have arranged to have Santa Claus with live reindeer visit the city from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday.

Since the reindeer are wild they are kept within an enclosure to insure safety. The reindeer and Santa will be located at W. Wisconsin Avenue and Desnoyer Streets from 9 to 10:30 a.m., 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and 5 to 7:30 p.m.

He will be stationed at E. Second Street and Crooks Avenue, from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 2:30 to 5 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Medical Society Plans Annual Yule Meeting

The Outagamie County Medical Society will have its annual Christmas meeting with wives at the Appleton Elks Club Thursday night.

Kaukauna Man Hurt in Crash

KAUKAUNA — Gerald N. Haberland, 20, route 1, Kaukauna, received bruises to the left arm and chest when the car he was driving north on Lawe Street hit a parked vehicle owned by Daniel Golden, 18, route 3, Kaukauna, about 2 p.m. Monday.

Haberland told police he had just come from treatment at a doctor's office and must have blacked out, causing the accident. He was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital in the city ambulance for treatment.

Backs Hiring of Engineer for Avenue Work

Street Committee Wants Work Done In Winter Months

Hiring a registered engineer during winter months to conduct preliminary survey work in conjunction with the much-discussed College Avenue rebuilding project was recommended Monday. The common council's street-sanitation committee took the action at city hall.

At the same time, it was disclosed nothing has been done concerning the proposed College Avenue improvement program, and the project is not included in the capital improvements charted by the council through 1966.

The recommendation to hire the engineer "over the winter months" was made by Acting Public Works Director Henry Crowe, who said he had discussed the matter with Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who reacted favorably to the suggestion.

The proposed hiring must be approved by the personnel committee before it goes to the common council for consideration Wednesday night.

It was proposed that the city hire Leonard Vanasse, Milwaukee, who has been in the employment of Collings and Associates as a resident engineer during the construction of the city's municipal parking structure at Washington and Division Streets.

Crowe mentioned the city could be worked out with the city paying part of Vanasse's salary while Collings paid the balance. It is planned to put Vanasse in charge when the city launches its second parking structure project next spring.

Crowe mentioned the city would be expected to pay "about $400 a month" toward Vanasse's salary if he is hired to do the College Avenue work.

Nothing Done

"Not a thing has been done about the College Avenue project," Crowe said. He explained that before the engineering department could do any planning for the avenue's reconstruction, considerable information would be needed.

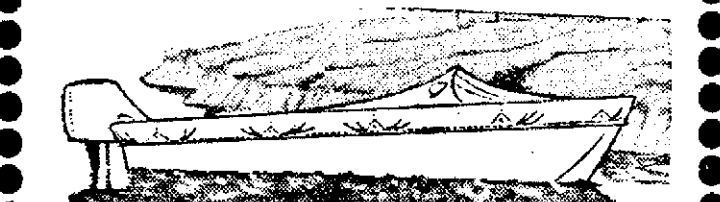

"We could definitely use him (Vanasse) to get some of this data and do grade survey work," Crowe said.

"The work must be done and we do not have enough manpower available to do it during the summer months," Crowe added. Vanasse would be responsible for obtaining the elevations of sidewalks, doors and buildings on College Avenue.

Crowe explained the city eventually would have to spend money to get the preliminary work done.

Ald. R. P. Groh (8th) said he favored getting the preliminary work out of the way but did not want the data to "collect dust." He said the city go through the expense of getting the same data several years from now.

Novel Christmas Wreath Made With Coat Hanger

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls can have fun making Christmas wreaths having coat hanger frames. A completed wreath is shown in Figure 2.

The first thing to do is shape the hanger into a circle (Figure 1). The easiest way to do this is to force it over a round pan of sufficient size. Even then you will have to shape it with your hands as the girl is doing in Figure 2.

You will need some sprigs of evergreen to cover the wire. Any that fall from your Christmas tree

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

DOES A CHANGE IMPROVE YOUR LUCK?

YES ☐ NO ☐

Yes, a pleasant one apparently can. An agreeable change seems to bring new challenge and fresh concentration. On the contrary, luck is destroyed by boredom, monotony and dull routine. "A new broom sweeps clean" isn't just an old wives' tale, but is the finding of the Duke University scientists who have been exploring what makes a man lucky. It's the enthusiasm and feeling of confidence that you have a desirable change that improves your chances of doing well.

Are newlyweds more companionable than long-time married couples?

Yes— No—

Yes, and, surprisingly enough, regardless of age. In fact, when the bride is over 50, she is likely to be more enthusiastic than a woman 30 years younger. Why? The older women (often former widows) are likely to be less demanding and more appreciative. Before their marriages, they were more lonely than younger women who still had plenty of dates. The companionship of such and Daniel.

Get all the facts about marital companionship from the frank booklet, "What Makes a Marriage Happy?" It's yours for 25 cents and your name and address sent to this column, in care of these newspaper.

Three Big Ten Teams Score Cage Victories

Jimmy Rayl Collects 32 Points to Propel Indiana Past Detroit

Three Big Ten basketball teams—eighth-ranked Illinois, Iowa and Indiana—scored victories in non-conference competition last night. But Northwestern, the Big Ten's only other team in action, was defeated by Southern Methodist 80-75.

The undefeated Illini brushed off San Jose, Calif. State 82-46 at Champaign to post their fourth straight victory. Iowa's Hawkeyes jumped to a 20-point halftime lead before topping Clemson 74-64 at Iowa City. Indiana parlayed a flurry of scoring action in the second half to post a 92-84 decision at Detroit.

Illinois, paced by Dave Downey's 23 points, hit 500 from the field in routing an over-matched San Jose club. Bill Small netted 18 and Bill Burwell, 15—14 in the first half.

Speedy Offense
The hot-shooting Illini opposed San Jose's deliberate, slow-down tactics with a speedy offense as the game began and took a 28-10 lead after 11 minutes. It was 44-21 at halftime. The closest San Jose came after that was 15 points, 65-50 late in the game.

Hawkeye sophomore Jimmy Rodgers pumped in 19 points in leading Iowa to its second win in four games. Iowa held a 45-25 lead at halftime and pushed it to 58-38 with 12 minutes to play. Clemson battled back to within nine points, largely on the shooting of Jim Brennan and Nick Milasovich, and cut Iowa's lead to 62-53. A basket-for-basket exchange followed as the game ended.

In the waning minutes, Iowa's Andy Hankins, the only Negro on the playing floor, exchanged blows with Brennan. The two were separated and shook hands. The Iowa student newspaper, the Daily Iowan, had suggested Iowa not play Clemson because Clemson had admitted no Negroes.

Indiana and Detroit were all even after the first 20 minutes of play, 46-46. They were deadlocked again at 50-all after two minutes of the second half. Then the Hoosiers cut loose with 11 quick points while holding Detroit to 2. Jim Rayl's five points and John McGlocklin's four led the way.

Detroit battled back to within a point. Then, with 4 minutes to go, Rayl hit two free throws, Dick VanArsdale pushed in a basket and Steve Rodenbaugh followed with another as the Hoosiers pushed seven points ahead and coasted home.

Rayl collected 32 points and Dick VanArsdale's twin brother, Tom, had 20.

SMU scored on 30 of 33 free throws to edge determined Northwestern at Dallas. The Wildcats led at halftime 42-39. But SMU battled to a 56-54 lead with 7 minutes and 47 seconds to play on James Thompson's jump shot.

Bill Gibbs paced the Wildcats with 19 points, including seven out of seven free throw attempts. Thompson 17 of 17 free throws and posted 25 points in all.

Doctors Predict Rapid Recovery For Norm Snead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Norman Snead, the Washington Redskins' No. 1 quarterback, will have to rest four weeks to recover from the severe shoulder separation he suffered in Sunday's 27-24 loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

His doctors, reporting this today, said Snead will not be able to play in the Pro Bowl game. However, they predicted a rapid recovery.

Snead was spilled violently by Pittsburgh linebacker John Reger when the game was only four minutes old. He was treated and discharged from the hospital.

Bruhn Picks 44-Man Squad for Bowl Trip

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin football squad concentrated on defense Monday in a spirited indoor workout with an eye toward its Rose Bowl game with Southern California on New Year's Day.

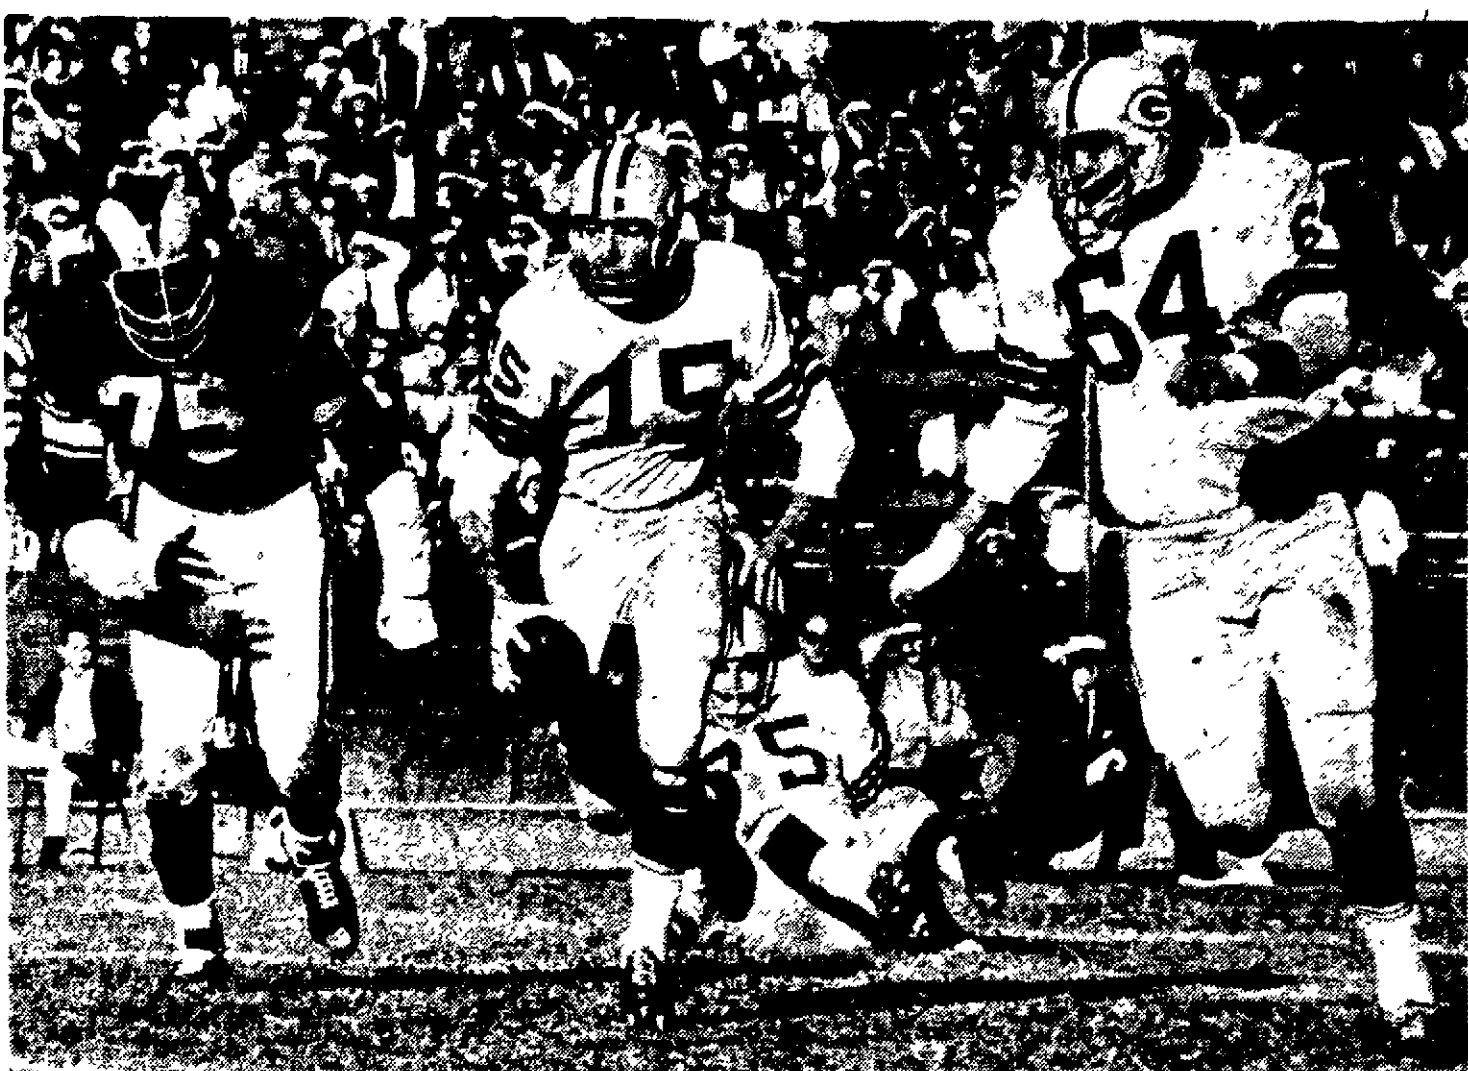

Coach Milt Bruhn said the session "wasn't exactly a scrimmage but they were hitting each other pretty hard." He said the rest of the week would be devoted to the offense and game plans. He also said the squad appeared to be in good physical shape.

Although the weather was comparatively warm, Bruhn said he was satisfied with drills in the Memorial Building and "would just as soon keep them there."

The Badgers leave Saturday for the West Coast and seven more practice sessions.

One Uncertain
Bruhn named a 44-man traveling squad. He said the only uncertain member was guard Dion Kempthorne, who has been under observation for a week in the student infirmary because of a stomach ailment.

Bruhn said he would take Kempthorne on the trip "if he can get out." Otherwise he will be replaced by William Weisendanger, sophomore from Freeport, Ill.

Packers Return Home, Set Their Sights on NFL Title

2,000 Welcome Team; Miller Says Squad Is in Good Shape

GREEN BAY (AP)—"Our total fixation is the championship." With this obviously their unofficial slogan, the Green Bay Packers returned home Monday night with their sights set on nothing but the National Football League championship game with the Giants in New York on Dec. 30.

The defending champion Packers came home with their third straight Western Division crown tucked snugly away. They closed the regular season Sunday with a 20-17 victory over the Rams in Los Angeles.

A welcoming crowd of about 2,000 persons raised a round of cheers and clanged cowbells but the festivities were more restrained than in the past two years as the fans generally respected the request of coach Vince Lombardi that the players be permitted to quickly join their families.

The Packers, on the West Coast for two weeks, stepped from their plane at Austin Straubel Airport, walked through lines of white-uniformed Civil Defense police, were met by their wives and families and hurried to their homes. There will be a brief holiday for the players, scheduled to resume drills on Wednesday.

No Speeches
Mayor Roman Denissen and John Bergeson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, were on hand, but there were no speeches and no hands.

Tom Miller, the club publicity man, served as spokesman for the team.

He told newsmen there were no injuries and the squad is in "good shape."

Miller said the Packers, who crushed the Giants 37-0 in the title game here last year, are "in the right frame of mind for the championship game." He added the Packers "realize the Giants are better than last year."

However, he reminded, Green Bay posted a 13 and 1 record in defending its crown, and said with that kind of a record the Packers "had to have had a good season."

The Packers told of their feelings at a party in Los Angeles Sunday night. At least a few of them did.

"We'll be ready," said co-captain and linebacker Bill Forester. "There's no question in anyone's mind that we can win it again. We've come a long way and this is the end of the road. Our total fixation is the championship."

The Packers have been told by Lombardi that "to play in this league, you've got to be tough—physically tough and mentally tough."

The coach says the long season of six exhibitions and 14 league games has tired his team, but there aren't any signs that it isn't tough.

Southern Cal Concentrates On Timing
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California worked for 90 minutes Monday on football essentials for its New Year's Day Rose Bowl game against Wisconsin.

Coach John McKay supervised all phases of the drill, which included precision timing, the employment of some of the 50 formations the Trojans use off their 14 basic plays. There was especial attention to blocking and much tackling dummy work.

The Trojans have 11 more practice sessions and McKay is conserving his squad's strength, planning to get his players sharp just before the day of the game. It is doubtful if there will be any all-out scrimmages.

Wisconsin arrives here Dec. 22 and will pitch its camp in Pasadena.

California Quint Overcomes Halftime Deficit for Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. Norbert, one of Wisconsin's stronger small college basketball teams, came close to bagging a big one Monday night but missed chances for four points in the final minutes and was beaten 76-75 by St. Mary's of California.

River Falls beat St. John's of Minnesota in the only other game Monday night.

The Green Knights had a 42-37 intermission lead but fell behind in the second half in the face of a balanced scoring attack by St. Mary's. A crowd of 1,200 saw the game in Green Bay's Brown County Arena.

Within Point
St. Mary's, behind 11 points by Joe Lee and eight by Steve Gray had opened a 76-71 lead going into the last minutes. A pair of quick baskets pulled the Green Knights to within a point, but they missed another field goal and two free throws before time ran out.

Gray, the game's top scorer, had 19 points. Mike Wisneski and Jim Paprocki led St. Norbert with 18 each, shooting their best in the first half. Paprocki got a dozen points and Wisneski 14 before the intermission.

St. Mary's, 3 and 3 for the season, shot .540 from the floor, making on 34 of 63 shots and hula good on all but three of 11 free throw attempts.

St. Norbert is now 4 and 4.

Report Matson Heading for Canadian Loop
TORONTO (AP)—If Ollie Matson is heading for Canada's Eastern Football Conference, it must be with the Ottawa Rough Riders or Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

A report from Los Angeles Monday said Matson, halfback for the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, had signed a $30,000-a-year contract with the Montreal Alouettes.

However, Montreal President Ted Workman denied that the Als have approached Matson. He said another Canadian team has the 33-year-old, 11-year NFL veteran on its negotiation list.

Workman also said Matson has told friends he wants to play at Montreal or with Toronto. But Toronto also denies having talked to Matson.

Matson, reported to be earning $27,000 a season with the Rams, played out his option this year.

Y. A. Tittle Will Be Ready for Packer Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle, the first on the road for the New York Giants, has an ailing back but says he'll be ready to play against the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League title game here Dec. 30.

Tittle was hurt when spilled on ice along the sidelines late in Sunday's 41-31 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

"I was worried last night," Tittle told a football luncheon Monday. "But the X-rays were negative. I'll be all right for Green Bay. I'll be working out this week."

The Giants' offensive right tackle, Jack Stroud, had injured ribs X-rayed, but again they were negative and he said, "I'll play."

A reserve defensive back, Dick Pesonen, once a Packer, still was in a hospital with a recurrence of an old back injury. The team physician, Dr. Francis Sweeney, said he was hopeful Pesonen would be able to play against Green Bay.

Badgers, Warriors Clash Wednesday

Marquette Unbeaten in Four Starts

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin basketball Coach Johnny Erickson says that Wednesday night's meeting with Marquette "could be a wild one."

He wasn't making any predictions Monday, but was pondering an unusually quiet attitude of his players.

"It could be good and it could be bad," the coach said. "I have no way of knowing, but I'm hoping it means the boys are dead serious about taking Marquette."

Another problem for Erickson to consider was the pulled leg muscle that has hobbled starter, Ken Siebel. He was hurt in Saturday's 84-58 victory over Miami of Ohio.

The coach said Siebel "appears to have improved a little after treatments, but it's still very doubtful if we can use him."

Last Appearance
Marquette, undefeated in four starts, was scheduled to work out in the fieldhouse today. The Warriors made their last appearance Saturday night, taking an 82-70 victory over St. Mary's of California.

The game with Wisconsin will be the first on the road for the Warriors, but Erickson isn't sure that will make much difference to Coach Ed Hickey's team.

"Eddie has an all-veteran lineup that has played all over the country, so it may make no difference," Erickson said. "But as Eddie and I both know, eating on the road and sleeping in strange surroundings is something to contend with."

Rebounding probably will decide the game, according to Erickson.

"Marquette is as big as we are," said the Badger coach. "Outside of Dick Nixon (5-foot-10), they are all fairly tall. Their Ron Glaser (6-foot-3) is taller than any guard we will use and Dave Erickson's 6-foot-7 is a pretty good match for Jack Brens (6-foot-8 and Tom Gwyn's 6-foot-6)."

"It will come down to who hustles the most going after rebounds. Both teams have shot exceptionally well. Marquette has played some awfully good rebounding teams and done all right. We have yet to do the job we should, especially on the defensive board."

First-Place Viking '5' Returns to Action On Buccaneer Court

Lawrence Seeks To Stop Varnado, Dave Hendricks

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Three big questions will be answered tonight when the first-place Lawrence College Vikings resume action after nearly two weeks of inactivity due to quarter-examinations.

Coach Don Boya's cagers will tangle with Beloit in the Buccaneers' 4,000-seat Beloit College Fieldhouse. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Vikings have posted two victories without a defeat in Midwest Conference play this season. They downed Knox, 70-61, and Monday, 69-64, before losing a non-conference tussle to Stevens Point, 74-54, Dec. 5.

Wonders About Layoff
Boya is wondering just how the layoff will effect his boys, how well they will rebound against the Bucs and how well they will defend against Beloit's two Dave's (Dave Varnado and Dave Hendricks).

The answer to the first question, or problem, is made easier when it is revealed that the Vikings have at least got in some practice following the exam period. In the past few years they have had to jump into play with only a practice, or two, under their belts.

The answers to the latter two 'questions will be provided by the final score tonight. Coach Boya feels his team should be able to rebound with Beloit and figures his men will have to hold Varnado and Hendricks to a limit of 50 points between them to win the game.

The Vikings' traveling squad is 10 strong and almost every player should see action, according to Boya. The starters will be Mike Clair and Earl Hoover, at the forwards, Luke Groser, at center, and Joel Ungrodt and Steve Nault, at the guards.

Boya says he will not hesitate to run in Gary Just, Fred Flom, Bill Prange or the others. The substitutions will depend on what Beloit does, both offensively and defensively.

To go with its "Davids" (Varnado and Hendricks), Beloit has two "Goliaths" in Tom Moran and Ron Nelson. Moran is 6-3 and Nelson is 6-4. Both are returning monogram winners as are Varnado and Hendricks.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The several good reasons Don Drysdale was named winner of the Cy Young award as the major league's outstanding pitcher in 1962 are reflected today in the release of the official National League pitching records.
Drysdale, big Los Angeles Dodger right-hander, led the NL in five categories. Games won—25; strikeouts—232; innings pitched—314; games started—41 and total batsmen faced—1,289.
The Dodgers' workhorse finished fourth in earned run average with 2.84. The ERA title was won by Drysdale's teammate, lefty Sandy Koufax, who compiled a 2.54 mark. Bob Shaw of Milwaukee was the runner-up at 2.80 and Cincinnati's Bob Purkey was third with 2.81.

Koufax Sidelines
Koufax yielded 52 earned runs in 184 innings while winning 14 games and losing seven. He was sidelined for two months with a finger injury.
Purkey and Joey of Cincinnati and Jack Sanford of San Francisco were the only others to win at least 20 games. Sanford had 24 victories, Purkey 23 and Jay 21. Purkey had the highest won-lost percentage, .821 on a 23-5 record.
Veteran Warren Spahn of Milwaukee failed to win at least 20 games for the first time in seven years. However, the crafty south paw, who picked up 18 victories in '62, pitched 22 complete games to lead in this department for the sixth straight campaign.
Jack Hamilton of the Philadelphia Phillies was the circuit's wild man. He led in bases on balls, 107, and wild pitches, 22. Teammate Art Mahaffey, a 19-game winner, permitted the most homers, 38.
Bob Gibson of St. Louis, both right-handers, set the pace in shutouts with five apiece.
Pittsburgh had the lowest collective earned run average, 3.38. St. Louis was next with 3.55 and Los Angeles third 3.61.

Wisconsin Drops
Out of Top 10;
Illinois Advances

The Cincinnati Bearcats, ranked the top basketball team in the Associated Press poll for the third straight week today, have a tough week ahead to protect their No. 1 rating.
Winner of 24 straight over two years and driving for its third straight national championship, Cincinnati tangles with tough Dayton Thursday and surprisingly strong Davidson Saturday. Davidson has a 4-1 slate, having only lost narrowly to Duke, the second-ranked team in the poll.
Cincinnati drew 42 of the 44 first place votes in the weekly voting by sports writers and sportscasters on the AP panel. Duke got the other two.
The Bearcats (40) had 438 points of a possible 440, with Duke (6-0) drawing 349 points. The rest of the top five remained unchanged. Ohio State (5-0) third with 302 points, Chicago Loyola (4-0) fourth with 218 and Mississippi State (5-0) fifth with 213. Records include games through last Saturday.
Illinois (3-0) stepped into eighth place from the 10th spot on the strength of an overtime triumph over Iowa State.
Wisconsin and Oregon state dropped out, after defeats to Indiana State and California, respectively.

Pender's Bid to Regain Title
In Hands of Supreme Court
NEW YORK (AP)—Boxer Paul Pender's bid to regain the New York version of the world middleweight title was in the hands of a Supreme Court Justice today.
Justice Arthur G. Klein reserved decision on a move by Pender, an ex-Marine from Brookline, Mass., to set aside the action of the New York Athletic Commission, which stripped him of the title for failing to defend it in the allotted six months.
In court Monday, Pender's attorney George Gallantz said that 11 days after Pender regained the New York, Massachusetts and European portion of the middleweight crown this year, the boxer signed to fight Gene Fullmer, who was recognized as champion in the other states.
Gallantz said that the fight was canceled by the promoter through no fault of Pender.
The attorney also maintained that Pender, although injured in an automobile accident, continued to try to get fights with recognized contenders, and finally signed on Aug. 20 to fight Jose Torres of New York.

Assistant Attorney General Irving L. Rollins resisted the application. He maintained that Torres was an "unrated fighter." Rollins said the commission insisted on suitable contenders.
"If not, a fighter would pick a soft touch," he said.
Pender won his portion of the 160-pound title from Sugar Ray Robinson Jan. 27, 1960 and lost it July 1961, to Terry Downes of England. He regained it April 7 this year.
Fullmer lost his share of the crown to Dick Tiger of Nigeria in San Francisco Oct. 23.
On Nov. 9, the New York commission acted in conjunction with other boxing commissions to recognize Tiger. Pender is now champion only in his home state.
Pender's attorney said the title was a "valuable property right," and the commission "cannot say to give and take as we see fit."

Rolls Up 123-102 Win
Mississippi State,
Kentucky Suffer
Basketball Upsets

BY BEN CLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
There are two good reasons why George Ireland, coach of Loyola of Chicago's racehorse basketball team, is one of the calmest men in the country these days.
1. His doctors warned him to keep calm after pains gripped his stomach.
2. His club is the best tranquilizer any coach can have.
The Ramblers, however, are something to get excited about. In five games, all victories, they've piled up 559 points for a 111.8 average Monday night. Loyola, ranked fourth in the latest Associated Press poll, calmly hit a season high while clobbering Western Michigan 123-102.
Loyola's triumph was anticipated. But there were unexpected developments. Fifth-ranked Mississippi State had its darkest hour of the campaign in Blacksburg, Va., where Virginia Tech ended State's 19 game winning streak in a 82-65 upset. And ninth-ranked Kentucky was knocked off by North Carolina 68-66 for its second setback this month on its Lexington, Ky., court. Virginia Tech was the initial spoiler 80-77 on Dec. 1.
Squeeze Past Xavier
Illinois, No. 8, trounced San Jose State 90-64 but the 10th ranked, Seattle Chieftains just managed to squeeze past Xavier of Ohio 76-74.
In other top games, Wichita Handled Arizona State its first defeat of the season 92-90 when Larry Nosisch hit a jump shot with re- fective seconds left in overtime, chased a prize of $150 in merchandise back a late Clemson victory for a 74-64 victory. Southern Methodist beat Northwestern 75-61. Morehead kept its unbeaten record intact with an 81-80 conquest of St. Bonaventure. Iowa State trounced Toledo 69-51. Kansas walloped Denver 68-43. Nebraska edged Miami of Ohio 72-69. Bradley outclassed Adams State 82-46. Indiana tripped Detroit 92-84 and Tennessee romped over The Citadel 73-56.
Loyola of Chicago, which scored more points per game than any other team in the nation last season—90.2—sank 52 of 95 field goal attempts for 547 on its home court against Western Michigan. Jerry Hardness paced the winners with 34 points.
Virginia Tech, which has won 39 straight games at home, put together a second half surge that trampled Mississippi State, Tech trailed 37-35 at halftime, but caught up and pulled away to a 17-point lead with 8:13 remaining. State had won five this season. Tech's Bobby Vancs was the top scorer with 20 points.
Tied 17 Times
North Carolina combined an airtight defense and shifting attack to stop Kentucky. The game was tied 17 times. Two free throws by Larry Brown with 2:23 remaining turned the tide in North Carolina's favor. Brown had 19 points while Don Rolfe led Kentucky with 18.

Xavier scored 10 straight points late in the second half to throw a scare into Seattle at Cincinnati. The rally trampled the Chieftains 14-point lead. However, the Muskies blew their last chance with 10 seconds to go when Tom Freppon's jump shot hit the rim and bounced away. Eddie Miles had 29 points for Seattle.
Nosisch's dramatic basket for Wichita on its home court was his only one of the game against Arizona State. He entered the contest with two minutes left in regulation time. Dave Stallworth of the Shockers was the high point man with 38.

Golf Magazine Picks
Carol Sorenson as
'Most Beautiful'

CHICAGO (AP)—Carol Sorenson, a 20-year-old blue-eyed blonde from Janesville, Wis., has been named the "Most Beautiful Golfer" in Golf Digest's 9th annual poll of the nation's golf writers.
Miss Sorenson, whose vital staff of the season 92.90 when Lar- ristics are 34-22-34, was chosen over four other finalists. She re- ceived a prize of $150 in mer- chandise credit, within the am- erical tour award limits, at the Janesville Country Club pro shop of Russ Tuvesen.
The daughter of a high pro and former Janesville Club School teacher, Miss Sorenson won her first title in 1956 when she captured the Wisconsin State Junior crown. She has been adding to her trophy case ever since.
Scored 'Slam'
She won the Wisconsin State Women's championship while still in high school in 1959 and '60. She scored a golf "slam" this year when she won the Women's National Collegiate, the Western Amateur and the Wisconsin Women's within three weeks.
Miss Sorenson was awarded an academic scholarship to Arizona State University at Tempe after graduation from high school. She is a sophomore majoring in recreation.
"This is great," Miss Sorenson said when notified of her selection as the 1962 golf queen. "Everything wonderful has happened to me this year."
Asked about her immediate ambition in golf, she replied:
"My goal is to be named to the U.S. Curtis Cup team."

Jerry Lewis to Star In Weekly TV Show

Clifford Odets, Richard Boone Also Scheduled for New Anthology Series

BY JINGO

Patrons of the upcoming "It's Only Money" film featuring Jerry Lewis are very unlikely to see that side of the fabulous funny man that was revealed so well during his stint as master of ceremonies of the Tonight Show on television.

In fact, the Tonight Show appearances seemed to surprise many. Despite the fact Lewis has run the gamut of creative activities in film, the popular image seems to be that of a buffoon.

Apparently, the moguls of ABC saw in Lewis the same things his NBC viewers did for they have signed Lewis for a two-hour, weekly show set for next fall.

There is great stock being placed on signing Lewis. One of ABC's vice presidents declares, "We expect his program to open a new dimension in entertainment for the American television audience."

Lewis' executive producer, E. D. Glucksmann, also has caught the fever. "ABC's sense of adventure is as expansive as ours and it definitely reflects young, progressive, and ambitious thinking. That was the spirit of the whole transaction," he said.

Words like that certainly fire up one's imagination and hope. Doesn't it? It sounds almost too good to be true.

Although Lewis certainly has a potential that could fulfill such words — at least a little. But it's a good bet, the kindest thing we could do is to forget most of those promises and just be amused by Jerry.

Another plan in the works—this one from NBC—holds even more fascinating promises. Its roots reach back to the beginnings of two eras from two of the personalities involved.

The plan is a new hour-long, dramatic anthology scheduled for the 1963-64 seasons. If the promise manifold in the background of the chief actors is kept, the anthology will have a much longer life.

The chief personalities involved are Clifford Odets and Richard Boone.

In Odets' hands are the threads of history from which the tapestry of the modern American theater were woven. In the 1930s Odets was in the forefront of the troupe of playwrights that placed America at the pinnacle of world dramatic literature. He blazoned his name on an era.

Boone's place in history is not as old, but, perhaps, it is nearly as secure. Although a long run of "Have Gun, Will Travel," may have dimmed memory a bit, it was Boone who started all of the medical shows when he became TV's first authentic star in his "Medico" show.

If Jerry Lewis doesn't come up with "a new dimension in entertainment," no one really will be too disappointed. Those are words which use has robbed of much of their power.

However, if Odets and Boone fail their promise—based as it is on the power of past performances—that will be a disappointment indeed.

Jim Backus' Mr. Magoo Acts Scrooge

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — Be sure to let the children watch Mr. Magoo's Christmas Carol, a delightful musical cartoon version of the Dickens classic — and you might as well watch it, too. Jule Styne and Bob Merrill have written six tuneful songs ("Winter Was Warm" and "When You're Alone" are particularly good), and the essence of Dickens' story is captured better than in many past versions. There is comedy at the opening and closing as Mr. Magoo heads for the theater where he is starring as Scrooge in "A Christmas Carol." Then we watch the show in which he appears. Color set owners are in for a treat, because the colors are used ingeniously. (Color)

7-7:30 (Channel 2) — There's a very moving Christmas story on The Lloyd Bridges Show, with Bridges' 8-year-old daughter, Cindy, making her dramatic debut as a girl who says she can hear the sound of angels. Bridges is her father, a man grown cynical by the commercialism of Christmas and the state of the world, and he tries to convince the child the sounds she hears come from another source. As they try to trace the mysterious sounds, he finds everyone she has met has faith in the little girl's angelic sounds.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Empire is something like a dramatized sermon this week, as it comes out squarely against greed. James Gregory, in an unusual characterization for him, is the greedy one. He plays a sharecropper who trades his son (Roger Mobley) for wealth. There are good scenes as his other two children (Jenny Maxwell and Dexter Dupont) are subjected by the sudden influx of money. (Color)

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Jack Benny Program has a show which lets Jack and some of the top stooges in Hollywood have some fun. There's no plot — Jack is about to fly to New York — but his trip from home to plane is peopled with funny characters. Louis Nye is a cab driver who hates to go to the airport and have to say goodbye. Mel Blanc is both a Mexican and the voice of the airport public address making wild announcements. Charlie Cantor is a painter who can't spell the sponsor's name correctly. Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Don Wilson and Frank Nelson also are on hand with comedy bits.

8:30-9:30 (Channel 11) — The Untouchables' episode tonight is a throwback to the show's earliest days. It's the old story of the bootleggers' intramural war a re (Guzik vs. Moran) and their mutual fight against the Ness Gang. Harry Morgan, in an unlikely bit of casting, plays Bugs Moran, with Nehemiah Persoff as Jake Guzik.

9-10 (Channel 2) — The Garry Moore Show has some good laughs, as usual. We begin with a bit in which three beauty queens (Diana Dumoret, Millie Slavin and Signy Lund) present Garry with the products they represent. Then Alan King does his great routine about lawyers. Carol Channing stars in a skit about a woman who is hooked on horror movies (Durwood Kirby is Dracula).

9:30-10 (Channel 11) — Producer Helen Jean Rogers, discussing the reaction of those who worked

Special Show on Polaris Sub Wednesday Night

A special one-hour color program filmed aboard a Polaris submarine during an extended mission will be presented on WFRV-TV at 9 to 10 p.m. Wednesday.

This will be the first time a television crew has ever been permitted aboard a Polaris during a mission that included the firing of its missiles. The program pre-empts the time of "The Eleventh Hour" show usually scheduled for that hour.

A six-man NBC news crew, including correspondent Martin Agronsky, spent 16 days aboard the U.S.S. George Washington. A realistic exercise climaxed by the missile launching into the Atlantic range is filmed in detail.

The program includes shots of the submarine base at Holy Loch, Scotland, the daily life of officers and crew members both at work and during their off-duty moments on the nuclear-powered vessel as well as the details of a Polaris countdown and launching of the missiles with their nuclear warheads removed.

Also, in an interview with Agronsky, Comdr. Edward Cooke, discusses the Polaris system and its relation to over-all U.S. defense strategy.

Florida Puts Embargo On Fresh Citrus Fruit

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — After 6 p.m., today, no fresh citrus fruit can be shipped out of Florida for 10 days.

The Florida Citrus Commission, in an emergency session Sunday, imposed the 10-day embargo to keep off the market citrus fruit that was damaged by last week's record cold spell.

The embargo will continue until 6 p.m., Dec. 27. At that time a new 14-day ban on the shipment of freeze-damaged citrus will begin, to run until 6 p.m., Jan. 10.

During the second embargo, fruit that can pass inspection by the state will be allowed to move out of Florida.

Fond du Lac Man Gets Year on Fraud Charges

MILWAUKEE (AP)—L. John Brignone of Fond du Lac, treasurer of the Ventura Cheese Co. of Farmersville, was sentenced to a year and a day by U.S. District Judge Robert E. Tehan today on a charge of using the mails to defraud two banks of more than $73,000.

Judge Tehan ordered the 51-year-old executive to serve 120 days in jail and suspended the rest of the sentence, putting Brignone on probation for three years.

Chairman Says Some Help Too Valuable To Lose So Suddenly

Members of the Executive Committee and the Civil Service and Salary Committee of the Outagamie County Board agreed Monday afternoon that the board may have been too hasty last week when it passed a resolution ending year by year employment extensions for county employees over 65 years old.

County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly, said, "There are some employees over 65 that we don't want to lose suddenly because they are too valuable and would be too hard to replace."

The two committees agreed to make a recommendation that the county board rescind that part of the resolution which says that all employees over 70 years old must retire by July 31, 1963.

The resolution, as passed by the board last week, said all employees over 65, but under 70, would have until the end of 1963, while those over 70 had only until July 31.

Chance For 'Diplomacy'

Fulcer explained that by taking out the portion of the resolution dealing with employees over 70, the committees would have the chance to use "diplomacy" in dealing with the problem at county institutions during the coming year. "By using diplomacy," he said, "we could get the number of employees over 65 cut in half, and we wouldn't have to pass resolutions in order to make them retire."

Presently the county has 22 persons on its payroll who are over 65 years old. One employee at the Riverview Sanatorium is 82 years old.

Members of the two committees discussed several methods of bringing about eventual retirement of persons over 65, but decided no formal recommendation would be made to the county board until the end of 1963.

The recommendation of the two committees if passed by the county board would allow all employees to finish the balance of 1963 at which time a definite program on mandatory retirement would be proposed.

Mercury to Continue Its Upward Climb

Temperatures Hit 15 Degrees Above December Normal

It's beginning to feel a lot like Easter in the Fox Cities as the mercury continues its unseasonal climb.

By 11 a.m. today it was 40 in Appleton and the temperature was still climbing. Fox Cities weatherman Ralph Dorn said it should hit 45 — and maybe higher — today.

Monday's high was 43 in Appleton, not a record-shattering mark, but still 15 degrees above the normal for this time of year. Incidentally, technically it's still fall with winter still two days away.

A dense fog shrouded most areas of Wisconsin Monday night after the state enjoyed a day of unseasonably warm weather with temperatures averaging 15 degrees above normal.

Temperatures climbed into the 50s in two cities with Lone Rock reporting the state high of 51 and Madison recording a 50-degree reading.

Other highs around Wisconsin were Beloit 49; Racine 47; Milwaukee 44; La Crosse and Eau Claire 43; Green Bay 37 and Wausau and Park Falls 35.

Hales Corners reported 22 for the lowest temperature in the state. Madison and Eau Claire had 25 while in the Superior-Duluth area the low hit 32.

No precipitation was reported in the state Monday or Monday night.

Laredo, Tex., hit the national high of 81, compared with a 1 below reading at Lebanon, N.H.

Lutherans Plan New Agency to Serve 3 Synods

The three major branches of American Lutheranism have appointed delegations to participate in the planning of a new cooperative agency intended to succeed the National Lutheran Council.

Seven representatives each were named by the Lutheran Church in America, the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod and the American Lutheran Church — comprising more than 95 per cent of the 8,600,000 Lutherans in the United States and Canada.

The eight other Lutheran church bodies in America, including the 348,000-member Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod, have also been invited to appoint similar delegations to serve on a joint committee that will hold its first meeting in Chicago Jan. 22 to 23.

The purpose of the new organization will be to serve as a Lutheran interchurch agency for common theological study and Christian service.

Lifetime Water Quota

The lifetime quota of water usage for the average American is 3,500,000 gallons.

Donovan Flies to Havana To Ransom 1,113 Prisoners

Loerke Fined $500; Gets 60 Days in Jail

Former Head of County Hospital Must Repay $1,291

The former superintendent of the Outagamie County Hospital, Norbert Loerke, 48, was fined $500 and ordered to begin a 60-day sentence in the Outagamie County jail Jan. 2, when he appeared Monday in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 for sentencing on two counts of misconduct in office.

Loerke, who pleaded guilty to the charges Nov. 8 after an extensive investigation by Sheriff L.L. Jack Zuelzke and Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, also was placed on probation to the state department of public welfare for two years. During the probation period, Judge Gustave Keller said, Loerke is banned from employment at the Outagamie County Hospital.

Orders Restitution

Loerke was ordered to make restitution to the county of $1,291—the estimated amount of money the materials and labor Loerke used for private work on his summer home at Little Lake Butte des Morts since 1958. Restitution must be made within six months, Judge Keller ordered.

In a written statement which he read to the crowded courtroom, Judge Keller told Loerke, "The offenses committed by you were not modest indiscretions but serious violations. I disagree—em—

Heavy Toll Seen During Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents during the long Christmas holiday, the National Safety Council estimates, may kill between 650 and 750 persons and cause disabling injuries to between 27,000 and 33,000 others.

The council's estimates cover the 102-hour holiday period from 6 p.m. local time, Friday, Dec. 21 to midnight Dec. 25.

The council said Monday that during a comparable nonholiday period at this time of year, 470 persons are killed and 20,000 suffer disabling injuries.

The record traffic death toll for any holiday period was the four-day Christmas period of 1956 when 706 persons lost their lives in highway accidents. In last year's three-day Christmas holiday, traffic deaths totaled 524.

The nation's traffic death toll in the first 10 months this year, averaged 110 a day for a total of 33,430, a record high for any single 10-month period.

Kennedy Says Peril Revealed by Crisis

Cuba Showed Nikita Dangers To World, President Thinks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy believes the Cuban crisis taught Soviet Premier Khrushchev "how dangerous a world we live in" but that it will be some time before the United States will "come to any real understanding" with him.

If the Communists would devote their energies to demonstrating how their system works instead of trying to change the balance of power "we could have a long period of peace," Kennedy said. But it is, he said, the Red's Chinese and Soviet determination to make a Communist world in a nuclear age that "makes the sixties so dangerous."

However, in a chatty interview that set a television "first" Monday night, the President said "we ought to be rather pleased with ourselves this Christmas" for thwarting the threat of Communist domination.

The President made no effort to paint a rosy picture of U.S. Soviet relations in the interview which was also carried on radio. The Cuban crisis, he said, has made successful negotiations with the Kremlin more difficult because the Russians — through "deception" — tried to change the balance of power by sneaking missiles into Cuba.

"So it is going to be sometime before it is possible for us to come to any real understanding with Mr. Khrushchev," Kennedy said, though, that the Soviet premier's speech to the Supreme Soviet (parliament) last week shows that he realizes the peril of the nuclear age.

Khrushchev knows, he said, that if Russia ever fires its missiles the United States will have enough to "fire back at him to destroy the Soviet Union."

The chief executive covered much of the world in an hour.

Kennedy Acts as Cupid To Help Couple Marry

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy has played Cupid for a 19-year-old U.S. Marine and a 17-year-old Bronx girl.

The two are Lance Cpl. Bernard Richardson of Brooklyn, N.Y., who had been stationed at Guantanamo in Cuba, and Gloria Kassoff.

Because of the Cuban crisis, Richardson had been unable to get leave to come home and marry Gloria this Saturday.

Miss Kassoff said she wrote President Kennedy Dec. 3 asking his help.

She said Monday night she got a reply last week from Under Secretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay Jr., stating that Richardson could be transferred from Guantanamo to Camp Lejeune, N.C., and would be allowed to go home to be married.

Richardson telephoned her from Camp Lejeune Sunday night that he would be home Wednesday.

2 Hunters Injured in Ontario Plane Crash

KENORA, Ont. (AP) — Two hunters were injured in the crash early Monday of their single-engine plane in scrub spruce 40 miles southeast of Kenora.

The pilot, Ed Callen of Park Rapids, Minn., was in a Winnipeg hospital and reported in serious condition. His companion, Merle Paul Fay of Superior, Wis., was hospitalized in Kenora with a face cut, both ankles sprained and chest abrasions. His condition was satisfactory.

Fay said Callen had flown Dr. Joseph Forer and John J. Aht, in from Sioux Narrows, Ont., to hunt and landed them in a Winnipeg hospital. Fay and Callen took off to try, said they plan to appeal the look for moose and had just spotted one for the Bennetts when the accident happened. He said he did not know what caused the plane to crash.

Castro Said to Have Cut Captives' Ransom Price

Tax Exemptions Indicated for Firms Donating Listed Items

WASHINGTON — Premier Fidel Castro has reduced his ransom price to $52,000,000 in "things like medicine and medical equipment" for the release of the 1,113 prisoners of war captured in the Bay of Pigs invasion.

American firms are now being solicited for drugs, medical equipment and baby food in a huge campaign, with an assist from federal agencies.

The American Red Cross is acting as the collection agency. It will also donate the cost of overseas packaging and shipping.

Some of the pharmaceutical firms have already been told that any donations will win quick approval as federal tax deductions.

A Justice Department spokesman acknowledged that the Internal Revenue Service and Justice are cooperating to the extent that attorneys from both federal agencies are "working overtime and weekends to expedite rulings" on the tax exemptions.

Both Must Approve

The rulings, which might ordinarily take weeks, are being handed down in a matter of days or less.

Both agencies must approve the deductions. "Nobody is being guaranteed a tax reduction in return for a contribution," said a Justice Department spokesman. "Each case is being examined and we're merely expediting the rulings."

In North Chicago, Ill., an Abbott Laboratories spokesman said his firm is making a "substantial" contribution to Fidel Castro's men-for-medicine demand.

It was unclear, even to some of the donors, who is spearheading the drive.

A spokesman for one large pharmaceutical firm said that solicitation was made by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn.

Request Items Listed

However, this was denied by a spokesman for PMA, who said that apparently members of the Cuban Families Committee were making the solicitations. At least one large American pharmaceutical firm received from the committee the list of items demanded by Castro.

Atty. James B. Donovan of New York, who has conducted length negotiations for the release of the Cuban prisoners, is credited with "beating down" Castro's original medicine-ransom demand by $10,000,000. The agreed upon price was based upon retail value in Havana.

Castro made known Oct. 12, during a speech at the University of Havana, that he would accept $62,000,000 in "things like medicine and medical equipment" for release of the prisoners.

Some Already Ransomed

However, it was only in the last few days that any substantial progress has been made in negotiations.

Some of the prisoners captured April 17, 1961, during the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion, previously were released on payment of individual ransoms of up to $100,000 each.

3 Milwaukee Judges Try to Up Pensions

Seek 'Prior Service Credit' for Work in Lower Courts

MADISON (AP)—The attorney for three Milwaukee circuit court judges asked in Circuit Court here Monday that the Wisconsin Retirement Fund permit them to have what spokesmen for the fund have called "double pensions."

The request was filed by Judges Harvey L. Neelen, Robert C. Cannon and Leo B. Hanley, Reserve Circuit Court Judge William O'Connell of Beaver Dam took the petition under advisement and asked for written briefs.

Maurice Pasch, Madison, attorney for the retirement fund, told the hearing, "If the judges should prevail in their request for a double pension, Wisconsin would be the first state in the union where a retirement system permits this kind of double pensions."

Shared in Retirement Plan

Stewart Honeck, attorney for the judges in the action started five years ago, said the jurists want "prior service credit" for service in lower courts. He objected to the use of the phrase "double pensions."

The three judges participated in the retirement system of the lower courts in Milwaukee County, then came under the state plan when elected circuit judges. Two other Milwaukee judges, Myron Gordon, now of the State Supreme Court, and Herbert Stefes of Circuit Court, also would receive any additional benefits secured through the action. Gordon was one of the original plaintiffs, but dropped out when elected to the state's high court.

Relatives Hopeful

In Miami, relatives of the prisoners waited hopefully for Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to say when and if he will accept food and medicine for their freedom.

The S. S. African Pilot, 435-foot freighter designated by the International Red Cross as the vessel to deliver the ransom to Cuba, headed south from Baltimore and is due at Port Everglades, 30 miles north of Miami, Wednesday.

The Red Cross has assumed sponsorship of the exchange.

If Castro and the negotiators agree, the ship will be loaded with food and medicine stockpiled at Miami.

Plans call for Pan American World Airways jets to fly to Havana to pick up the prisoners. The ship will be in port or at sea headed for Cuba when the planes take off from Havana.

Castro has demanded $62 million worth of food and medical supplies or equipment in exchange for the prisoners.

The dollar figure is supposed to represent Havana prices and in the United States is estimated to be worth $13 million at wholesale.

Ray Adiel, president of the Empress of Bahamas Travel Service, said in Miami that the Red Cross had accepted an offer to use without charge the 1,200-passenger liner Empress of Bahamas to ferry the prisoners.

The ship was tied up at Miami in a court battle between her German owners and holders of the charter rights to the vessel.

Adiel said the offer was accepted in a telegram from the Red Cross in Washington.

3 of Cuban Committee Also Aboard

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—New York attorney James B. Donovan flew to Havana today in an effort to complete negotiations with Fidel Castro for release of 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners in exchange for food and medicine.

Donovan and three officials of the Cuban Families Committee, composed of relatives of the prisoners left aboard a special Pan American World Airways plane.

The plane took off at 9:56 a.m. from a guarded and secluded runway a mile distant from Miami's International Airport. The public was barred.

Supplies Waiting

A flow of medical supplies to Miami has begun, presumably to be swapped for the prisoners it was learned in New York.

Trans World Airlines said one of its planes, under charter, Monday night flew 32,000 pounds of medicine to Miami from Idlewild Airport.

It said that between now and Friday, 28,000 pounds will be flown from St. Louis, Mo., and 19,000 pounds from Los Angeles, bound for Miami.

The airline said the shipments were ordered by the Air Transport Association, a private organization of aviation industry executives.

Mitchell, TV, Stage, Screen Star, Dies at 70

Second Veteran Actor To Die of Cancer Within 2 Days

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Thomas Mitchell, an actor's actor, honored by his colleagues with the highest awards of stage, screen and television, is dead of cancer. He succumbed Monday, the deadly disease's second victim in two days among the famous names of Hollywood. The other was Charles Laughton, 63, who died Saturday.

They appeared once together in a movie—"The Hunchback of Notre Dame" in 1939.

The bushy-browed Mitchell, who had the face of an Irish leprechaun and the soul of a devilish poet, was most famous for his role of Scarlett O'Hara's father in "Gone With the Wind."

That same year Mitchell also played the boozy frontier doctor in "Stagecoach," a picture many critics believe the finest Western ever made.

Reds Will Appeal U. S. Communist Party Given $120,000 Fine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Communist party has been convicted and fined $120,000 for failing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union. But the 12-year legal wrangle goes on.

Joseph Forer and John J. Aht, in from Sioux Narrows, Ont., to hunt and landed them in a Winnipeg hospital. Fay and Callen took off to try, said they plan to appeal the look for moose and had just spotted one for the Bennetts when the accident happened. He said he did not know what caused the plane to crash.

A federal jury of eight women and four men took only 35 minutes Monday to find the party guilty on all 12 counts of the indictment. U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff then imposed the maximum fine—$100,000 for each count.

Could Seize Assets

Imposition of the maximum fine led to speculation about whether the Communist party has the money to pay it. If the fine is not paid, the Justice Department could seize the party's assets. A Justice Department attorney said he expected the fine will be suspended pending the party's appeal.

The defense pleaded the party's right to use the Fifth Amendment during the trial, which began a week ago, but Judge Holtzoff said only a living person, not an organization, could invoke the Fifth Amendment, which protects a person against self-incrimination.

Congress passed the Subversive Activities Control Act, better known then as the McCarran Act, in 1950.

Validity Upheld

Under the act, the Subversive Activities Control Board found that the Communist party was acting as an agent of the Soviet Union. The act required such organizations to register and pay a fee. The act required such organizations to register and pay a fee.

Three Thieves Figure Out Prescription for Robbery, Take $900

NEW YORK (AP) — Three thieves figured out this prescription for mass robbery in a doctor's office.

They tied up the physician, his nurse and receptionist, then forced the receptionist to call out the names of patients seated in the waiting room. All 11 patients were bound and robbed, one by one, as they entered the inner office.

The Negro robbers, two with guns and one with a knife, got about $600 in cash and $300 in jewelry from Dr. Thomas H. Amos, his nurse, the receptionist and the patients in the physician's Harlem office Monday.

Buck Edinger Leads Blitz in Cage Triumph

Brillion Ironmen Rout Chilton AC's in Area Amateur League Play

CHILTON — Ageless Harold (Buck) Edinger led a fourth period scoring blitz by the Brillion Ironmen that broke up a close contest and gave Brillion an 80-60 win over the Chilton AC's in an Eastern Wisconsin Amateur League game this weekend.

Edinger scored 35 points on 15 buckets and five gift shots to lead all scorers. Chilton's Don added 15 points to rank second for the winners.

Brillion moved ahead 22-18 at the quarter and had its lead shaved by two points in the second frame. Chilton trailed 40-38 at the half.

The Ironmen upped their advantage slightly in the third period outscoring Chilton 22-19 to lead by five going into the deciding stanza. Brillion hit for 24 points in the final period and held Chilton to a meager 11 to compile the 20-point victory margin.

Bob Bennin and Al Schmidtkofer led Chilton with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Man Fined $50 For Hauling Illegal Venison

CHILTON — Illegal transportation of venison cost a Milwaukee man a $50 fine in Calumet County Court here Monday.

John D. Lahanen, 25, Milwaukee, stipulated guilt to the charge. He was arrested by Calumet County Conservation Warden Keith Reichenbach in November after the warden checked his car.

The deer Reichenbach found was killed in Michigan but was tagged for a resident license. Lahanen claimed to be a Michigan resident but his driver's license proved that he lived in Wisconsin long enough to be a legal resident of the state.

Rural Chilton Man Pleads Guilty to Non-Support Charge

CHILTON — Richard E. Beck, route 4, Chilton, waived preliminary hearing and pleaded guilty of non-support in Calumet County Court Monday.

Judge D. H. Seborra ordered a pre-sentence investigation by the State Department of Public Welfare and scheduled sentencing for 10 a.m. Dec. 31. Beck was remanded to the custody of the sheriff and is being held in jail here.

A warrant issued by Dist. Atty. F. J. Schmieder charges Beck with failing to support two daughters, aged 5 and 7, since March 30, 1962. Beck surrendered himself to Topeka, Kan., police last week and was brought back here to face charges by Under-sheriff C. J. Kosmosky.

Marion Bees Win Over Wautoma, 30-24

MAHON — The Marion Bees downed Wautoma here Friday night 30-24. Ken Frahring and Dave Denzer each scored nine points for Marion, and Dean Eagan and Darrel Parker each scored six for the losers.

Winning decisions were Richard Balthazor, 103, Robert Rosmarynowski, 120, Richard Verkuilen, 127, and Michael Shoemaker, 145. Dallas Whitewing, 180, won his match by default when his opponent was forced to quit because of an injury.

In exhibitions, Richard Golomski, 120, won on a default and Vernon Skinner pinned his opponent, John Reidl, 112, lost on a pin.

Andrew Peterson, 112, and George Groshek, 138, were the only losers in regulation matches. Peterson was pinned and Groshek lost a 2-0 decision.

Heavyweight William Kassube posted his sixth straight pin of the season. Others winning on pins were Roger Shalewski, 137, Norbert Groshek, 154, and Albert Ostrowski, 165.

Coach Tells Club Why He Will Resign

Waupaca Mentor Says, 'I Live, Eat, Think Basketball'

WAUPACA — Coach Al Schlatter Monday noon told members of the Downtown Coaches Club he is planning to resign as head basketball coach at Waupaca High School at the conclusion of this season.

Coach Schlatter said his decision had been discussed with the school administration, which has agreed to give him a release from coaching. He said he will continue as a faculty member.

Coach Schlatter said he reached his decision after the Wittenberg game. "I can't sleep at night, I live, eat and think basketball all the time and it bothers me," Coach Schlatter announced.

The Comet coach told the club he used the five players who practiced the hardest last week to start the Iola game. All of the players were sophomores on the starting five.

He said upperclassmen were kept off the starting lineup because of their failure to practice hard during the week.

Clarence Riddle, high school principal, who attended the meeting said the administration was "100 per cent" behind Coach Schlatter on his decision to start the younger players.

Riddle also said he disapproved of the student body's reaction to Coach Schlatter's decision to play the younger players. He said he stood up and asked the students to stop chanting for "first string players" during the Iola game.

Riddle claimed the decision to play the younger cagers was probably hardest on Coach Schlatter "because all coaches want to win games."

Riddle said the boys are representing Waupaca High School, themselves and their parents when they are playing basketball and it does not do anyone any good unless they are making a whole-hearted effort.

Two members of the club pointed out the coaches also must form the minds of students as well as develop basketball players. Another maintained he thought some of the players were slacking off during last week's practice sessions.

Coach Schlatter said he wanted club members to get a true picture of what happened.

Chilton Council To Hear Study Of Well Sites

Preliminary Report To be From Survey Taken Last Summer

CHILTON — A preliminary study of possible well sites will be presented to the city council tonight, according to Arthur Pohlman, city clerk.

The report is the result of seismographic and resistivity tests made by engineers of the Layne-Northwest Co., Milwaukee, during a water survey of the city carried out by the firm late last summer.

Representatives of the firm were scheduled to be present at the council meeting to give a detailed account of the survey along with recommendations, but they have been rescheduled for Jan. 16.

The Layne-Northwest Co. engineers prepared strata maps of the

Damages $1,000 In Auto Mishap

WAUPACA — A car and pickup truck were damaged Thursday in separate traffic accidents Thursday, county police reported.

A 1960 model car had estimated damages of $1,000 about 5 p.m. Thursday when the car left Swamp Road, 4.5 miles north of Clintonville. Harold F. Gehrke, 35, route 3, Clintonville, the owner and driver, told police he was going west and his car started skidding on the slippery road, turned for end and went into the south ditch and landed on its top on a pile of rocks.

The left side of a pickup truck owned by Wausau Tile and Terrazzo Co., Wausau, was damaged about 7:30 p.m. Thursday on U.S. 45 one mile west of Clintonville. Richard Barremans, 35, Wausau, was driving north and lost control of the truck while another car was passing. The truck went into the ditch, hit a utility pole and went into a field.
